

MEMORIAL DAY 1963

Small Band Of Women Spread Flowers, Started Memorial Day

By The Associated Press
One sad spring day, 100 years ago, a small group of women at Columbus, Miss., went to a new cemetery and scattered flowers on graves of Confederate soldiers. They found two Union graves, and decorated them, too.

Out of that act of impartial devotion to Americans fallen in battle grew a national tradition—Memorial Day.

It is observed today, in tribute to all of the country's war dead, the more than a million fighting men who have died in combat since the birth of the nation.

On city streets, at monuments and in cemeteries across the land, there will be ceremonies, parades, wreath-layings, speeches and gunfire salutes to the departed warriors.

To many people, the occasion also is the start of a 4-day holiday from work, and the customary surge of travel was on, by bus, train and plane, for long weekend visits and outings.

But a serious note of gratitude and honor to those killed in service of the country, set the theme for the day.

Traditional

the traditional presidential wreath is placed on the "Tomb of the Unknowns" at 10 a.m., CST, in nationally televised ceremonies.

Similar observances are held elsewhere.

It all started when the Southern women in 1863 sprinkled spring blooms on the newly filled graves of men fallen in the Civil War.

Most of the dead at the hastily prepared Columbus, Miss., cemetery had been brought there from the battle of Shiloh Church, Tenn. The little band of women, led by Miss Matt Morton, offered their tokens of respect to victims on both sides.

Madame Pierre Pflimlin, wife of the former premier of France, will place a wreath at a memorial honoring Boston's war dead.

At the ceremonies in Arlington National Cemetery, President Kennedy will lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknowns. He will be accompanied by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, who will address the gathering. The President does not plan to speak.

Louisiana Negroes Yield To Troopers

Baton Rouge, La. (UPI)—Fifty helmeted state troopers surrounded the Louisiana capitol Wednesday, forcing Negro leaders to change their plans for a mass demonstration against segregation.

Rev. Arthur L. Jelks, president of the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, said only a few Negroes would demonstrate at Baton Rouge municipal building, and they may go to the capitol.

"We have ruled against having too large a demonstration today," Jelks said. "I understand the state police are waiting for me with billy clubs if I go to the capitol."

Thomas Burbank, state director of public safety, said the troopers were deployed as a precautionary measure to quell any violence stemming from a demonstration. Three hundred other troopers were put on a standby basis.

Jelks said his group was after "peace and harmony."

He said Negroes would not march through the downtown area because "I don't want them to get us for parading."

Jelks' group decided to demonstrate because local government refused to accept their recommendations for membership on a bi-racial committee.

Jelks said earlier that at least 1,000 Negroes were ready to demonstrate.

State Traffic Safety Coordinator Thomas P. Ryan reminded Nebraskans Wednesday that the Memorial Day holiday period last year brought 110 traffic accidents in the state, with 5 deaths and 74 injuries.

"These tragedies could have been avoided if two basic driving requirements had been observed: 1. Know the rules of the road. 2. Drive by the rules of the road," Ryan said.

Of the 4 fatal Memorial Day accidents last year, two involved speeding drivers, one involved a drinking driver and one involved a driver who went to sleep, he noted.

"Since last Memorial Day, irresponsible and careless driving on Nebraska roads and streets has added 397 new graves to our cemeteries—injured 12,000 and has cost Nebraska citizens $70 million, nearly $200,000 per day," Ryan observed.

4 POOLS OPEN ON SATURDAY; 5TH POSSIBLE

Four of Lincoln's 5 public swimming pools will open Saturday morning, and there is a possibility the fifth one will, too.

City Recreation Supt. James C. Lewis said late Wednesday that Muny, Irvingdale, University Place and Ballard Field Pools have some water in them. It should be warm enough by Saturday, he noted.

Whether Eden Park Pool will open Saturday depends on the contractor who may let the Recreation Department know Friday.

"We hope it'll be ready," Lewis said.

Cuban Shooting Charge Denied

... SIMPLY NOT TRUE—RUSK

Washington (AP)—Cuba charged Wednesday that a U.S. plane fired on a Soviet-Cuban crew drilling for oil Sunday off the island's north coast. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the accusation is "simply not true."

This was backed up by a

Navy spokesman who reported it is true that a Navy plane was on routine duty "over the high seas north of Cuba on Sunday." But he said the plane did not fly over Cay Frances, as the Cubans charge, "nor did it fire at any time during its patrol mission."

In the latest in a long series of charges of aggression hurled by Havana against the United States, the armed forces ministry said a twin-engine "P5B of the North American Navy with number 147-320" swooped low over Cay Frances. The plane was accused of firing bursts from "a thick calibre machine gun" at the drilling crew.

"After the aggression the plane flew around the area, occasionally at an altitude of 200 meters," the communique said.

It did not mention any casualties in connection with the charge.

At his news conference Wednesday, Rusk denied the charge and commented that Navy patrol planes do not have machine guns.

Pension Tag $292,000

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Revised figures have now tagged general fund cost of the proposed state retirement system at $292,400 annually. Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala revealed Wednesday.

Costs and benefits were compared at a meeting called by McGinley and attended by 4 other cosponsors of LB512, a number of state department chiefs and actuary Robert Larson.

Among issues discussed at the far-ranging conference was a proposal for a Legislative Council study directed at possible abandonment of the present teacher retirement program and inclusion of teachers in the plan contained in LB512.

A recommendation for such a study during the interim preceding the 1965 session will be presented to the Legislature in the form of a resolution, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff told newsmen following the meeting.

Levy Proposal
But first, he said, he will propose that the 1963 session hike the current .50 mill levy for teacher retirement to a point where it will begin "to wash out the unfunded liability of the teacher pension plan."

That liability has been estimated at some $28 million. In its present form, LB512 would affect some 5,300 state employees not already covered by retirement plans.

Already covered, in addition to teachers, are employees of the University of Nebraska, the State Safety Patrol and judges.

Latest actuarial breakdown on the costs of the amended version of LB512, according to McGinley:

—For past service, $66,000 general fund; $44,000 institutional levies; $154,000 cash or federal funds; $264,000 total.

—For current service, $226,400 general fund; $146,600 institutional levies; $352,000 cash or federal funds; $725,000 total.

Original estimates had placed general fund costs at about $511,000 a year, with total expenditures pegged at $987,000 annually.

Morrison Request
LB512 was introduced by 6 senators at the request of Gov. Frank Morrison. It was reported to the floor of the Legislature Wednesday, and is likely to be debated next week.

experienced a 26% turnover last year in its 1,374 engineering and clerical employees, Hossack said.

Estimating that the state placed an investment of perhaps $1,000 in each of the 360 employees lost, Hossack suggested that such a turnover costs the state $360,000 a year in lost investment for training.

Fringe Benefits
State Institutions Director George Morris said many of the professional employees he must hire are "more interested in the fringe benefits like retirement than they are in salary."

Prospective employees do "turn down" offers by the state because of no retirement system, Morris told McGinley in answer to a question.

"One of the first questions they ask is if we have a retirement system," Hossack said.

State Game Commission Director Mel Stoen told the senators that "a department is only as good as the people in it, and we are not able to compete in the hiring and holding of competent personnel."

POPE SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

... Fear New Crisis

Vatican City (AP)—Pope John XXIII, gravely ill with a stomach growth and internal bleeding, went to sleep Wednesday night with the Vatican reporting him as showing continued improvement.

But the 81-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church remained under constant medical watch with the threat of a new crisis always present on the 10th day of relapses.

Along with reports of improvement, the Vatican acknowledged for the first time that his illness is grave and that he has been through an acute crisis.

showed clear improvement in the Pope's general condition, it said, and the doctor, who had spent 8 straight nights in the Vatican palace, left for the rest of the day.

But there was a note of caution.

The communique spoke of "acute moments of crisis" and said the Pope had not suffered "any lapses or bewilderment" during them.

Separate
The Vatican radio, in a separate announcement said: "The Pope is ill. His illness is grave."

The Vatican previously had not used the words grave and crisis—not even in the Tuesday communique which revealed the Pope's illness as a gastric heteroplasia, or abnormal growth, causing hemorrhages. This could be a cancer, a benign tumor or an overgrowth of tissue.

The Vatican press office apparently was moving to give more information on the Pope's condition. It promised 3 communiqués a day... in the morning, afternoon, and evening.

Only Relative
It was clear that statements of improvement were only relative.

There was no evidence of hope that improvement would be permanent. Privately Vatican officials were concerned at what might happen once the effects of blood transfusions wore off. The Pope has not been responding so rapidly to treatment of internal bleeding as he did at first.

Relax Some
With this word, the mood at the Vatican relaxed somewhat. The Pope's Rome physician, Dr. Piero Mazzoni, examined him Wednesday evening, then left the Vatican. Other medical attendants stood by.

One of the physicians, Dr. Pietro Valdoni, was quoted as telling a high prelate that if the Pope continued showing improvement he might be able to sit up in a chair in a week or so.

The Vatican press office announced late Wednesday night it was closing down until morning.

Soviets Buzz U.S. Airplane In Berlin Lane

Berlin (UPI)—A Soviet fighter plane Wednesday buzzed a U.S. Air Force transport and the incident prompted brought a United States protest against "dangerous maneuvers" in the Berlin air corridors.

An American spokesman said the Soviet fighter flew within 200 feet of a C-97 transport and then followed the plane until its final approach to Tempelhof Airfield.

The Americans protested to the Berlin Air Safety Center against what they called a violation of 4-power air safety rules.

A spokesman said an approach to 200 feet at jet speed was considered quite dangerous. He also said the fighter maneuvered around the American plane then followed it down to a height of about 2,000 feet as the plane made its final landing approach.

2 Army Men Die In Clash In Viet Nam

Saigon, South Viet Nam. (UPI)—Two U.S. Army special forces men were killed in a clash with Communist guerrillas in the central highlands north of here, a U.S. military spokesman reported Thursday.

He identified the two Americans as a captain and a sergeant, but said no further details were available immediately because of communications difficulties. The clash occurred Wednesday.

The spokesman said the death of the two men brought to 63 the number of American soldiers killed in action in South Viet Nam since the United States started building up its military aid program in 1961. South Viet Nam has been threatened by a Communist takeover for years.

Later that month Cuba charged U.S. naval ships violated Cuban waters near Havana and on March 1 charged that a U.S. destroyer rammed a Cuban coastal vessel. The U.S. Navy said a destroyer inspecting the freighter off Guantanamo accidentally tangled an anchor in the Cuban vessel's shroud.

Fired Shells
Russia charged on March 14 that U.S. warships fired shells near a Soviet fishing boat March 8 in the open seas off Norfolk, Va. The United States said the ships were engaged in gunnery practice a safe distance away from the Soviet vessels.

On March 29, after a U.S. protest, the Cuban government told the United States its jet MIGs "probably fired in error" at the U.S. ship Floridan off Cuba's north coast in international waters.

Donegan, Hellman Given Power Posts

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer
Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday filled the two remaining positions on the Nebraska Power Review Board by naming Larry E. Donegan of Lincoln and Sid Hellman of Kearney.

Donegan, a Republican, will fill the engineer's post on the board, and Hellman, a Democrat and businessman, will fill the second lay post on the board.

Morrison had previously named Democrats Clair Callan of Odell and W. H. Norton of Osceola, and Republican Walt Witthoff of Fremont to the 5-member board created by the 1963 Legislature.

Powers
The board has the power to establish retail service area boundaries and make recommendations in rate cases, as well as passing on the construction of all major new generating and transmission facilities.

Morrison Wednesday also completed his appointment of additional members to the Nebraska Centennial Commission by naming Tom Eason, a North Bend farmer, to the 15th position on the group charged with organizing Nebraska's 1967 centennial celebration.

Judge Nixes School Suit

U.S. LACKS AUTHORITY

Birmingham, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge ruled Wednesday that the Justice Department does not have the right to sue for desegregation of two Alabama school systems.

U.S. District Judge H. Hobart Grooms dismissed a suit against the Huntsville city and Madison County school boards and said the state's pupil placement law would apply in the case.

The Justice Department sought an injunction against racial segregation in the schools in federally impacted areas. The action contended that the civil rights of children of federal employees and military personnel were violated by a segregated school system.

"Except in the field of voting rights," Grooms said, "the Congress has granted the government no authority to bring such a suit as this. In fact, it has refused to grant such permission."

A similar suit dismissed in Mississippi by Judge Sidney Mize May 16 was used as a precedent by Grooms. Another such action filed against the Mobile (Ala.) County school system has not yet reached a hearing.

"To intend this brief to encompass the scope of the (Mississippi) opinion would be to do more than is required or is useful," Grooms said.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said that Wednesday's ruling and the Mississippi case would be appealed to a higher court.

"I am of the opinion that the United States is without authority to maintain this action and, further, that the complaint does not state a claim upon which relief can be granted," the judge said.

The Huntsville and Madison County schools receive federal funds because of the location there of Redstone Arsenal, the Marshall Space Flight Center and other federal installations.

Grooms said that the act which provides for the application of federal funds for schools says that assurance must be given that school facilities would be available in accordance with the laws of the state in which the school district is located.

"The language . . . would certainly encompass the Alabama school placement law," Grooms said. "By this complaint the (Justice Department) would simply sidestep the placement law which has been held 'upon its face' to be constitutional."

"It is well established that the law does not require integration, but only abolishes discrimination, and until the individual colored children . . . show that they have been discriminated against because of their race . . . the placement act would be applicable."

He said that the complaint, when considered as a whole, represented an attempt by the executive arm of the government to use the judicial arm to bypass the legislative arm in contravention of the principle of separation of powers.

President Set To Try Persuasion

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy will use the art of personal persuasion next week in an attempt to ease racial tensions and head off a possible new explosion in the South.

He has arranged a meeting with 75 to 100 business leaders Tuesday on the issue of desegregating southern restaurants and stores.

This issue has kept his administration conferring, debating, drafting all week. Justice Department lawyers have tried to hammer out civil rights legislation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has kept busy talking to some of the same businessmen who will meet with the President next week.

New Evidence

The personal involvement of the President—paralleling the approach of his brother—will add new evidence of the administration's concern about the mood of American Negroes and the signs of impending trouble in the South.

The announcement of the Tuesday meeting came from the White House Wednesday. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said invitations had been sent by telegram to 75 business executives Tuesday. He said 25 more invitations may go out.

Some of the executives are northerners with business interests in the South. The others are southerners.

Some Aspects

Salinger said the President told the executives he wants to discuss "some aspects of the difficulties experienced by minority groups in many of our cities in securing employment and equal access to facilities and services generally available to the public."

There were reports that Kennedy plans to meet later with southern clergymen and public officials.

Salinger was asked whether these conferences were a prelude to an administration request for legislation to force hotels, restaurants, variety stores, and drug stores to desegregate. Salinger declined to comment.

Substitute

There was a possibility that these conferences might be a substitute for such legislation. Some advisers in the administration reportedly question the wisdom of proposing strong civil rights measures now. They fear the resulting reaction of southern congressmen might kill major portions of Kennedy's legislative program.

FEAR NEW ACTION IN JACKSON

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Negroes girded for renewed action Wednesday in this tense city — newest hot spot in an ever-shifting southward campaign against racial segregation.

Negotiations between white and Negro leaders were at the breakoff point, with Mayor Allen Thompson denying any thought of tension-easing concessions.

Eleven boycott pickets were arrested almost as soon as they unlimbered their signs in front of a downtown store. Deputy Police Chief J. L. Ray said they were charged with blocking the sidewalk.

Classes were held in sit-in techniques and other non-violent procedures at the city's National Association for the Advancement of Colored People headquarters.

Similar demonstrations preceded recent riots in Birmingham, where bitter reaction pushed the situation to the explosion point.

A downtown Jackson variety store shut down before noon when it was rumored its lunch counter was the next sit-in target.

The H. L. Green Variety store was the last downtown chain store with a lunch counter open. Two others closed theirs after a violent sit-in Tuesday.

Rusk Raps Rocky's Call For Separate European N-Force

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk tangled Wednesday with the views of Nelson A. Rockefeller in declaring he would be "very skeptical" about the United States helping create a separate European nuclear force.

"I am not at all convinced that these views represent a deep study of the situation," Rusk said.

He made the comment when asked at his news conference about a proposal recently put forward by Rockefeller, New York governor and a potential candidate for next year's Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller, in an April 25 speech to the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said the United States should help develop "a truly European force" which would operate in partnership with American atomic might.

The Kennedy administration has been trying to promote a combined European-American multilateral force under NATO in which the United States would retain a veto over the firing of the atomic weapons.

Rusk said "the defense of Western Europe and North America is indivisible" and "any arrangement which looks to an attempted separate action within the alliance" would cut across the basic commitment of interdependence made by the Allies when they formed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in 1949.

He also pointedly reasserted the U.S. objection to a spread of national nuclear capability.

ties. An independent European force without an American veto presumably would introduce a new atomic power on the international scene.

Rusk's arguments also conflicted with those of French President Charles de Gaulle. The French leader is developing an independent French nuclear capability and favors greater European independence of the United States.

Despite the continuing debate over the future form of the Atlantic community and how to allocate nuclear power, Rusk made plain that De Gaulle would be welcomed in the United States whenever he chooses to visit. Rusk said there is no present plan for this, however.

The atomic issue also figured importantly in Rusk's remarks about relations with the Communist Bloc. The Secretary of state said:

1. The United States does not plan to conduct above-ground tests in the immediate future and "we would like to use this period for real and realistic discussions with the Soviets on the possibility of a test ban."

2. The Soviets have been cool toward test ban proposals. One reason may be that they plan further testing. Another may be reluctance to enter a test ban agreement with the West during the Russians' current difficulties with Red China.

3. A summit meeting between President Kennedy, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Macmillan on the test ban issue would not be profitable unless some breakthrough have been made out of the present East-West deadlock. But contacts with the Soviets should be maintained in a search for agreement.

4. Rusk is not predicting what outcome is likely from the Soviet-Red Chinese talks scheduled in July concerning the rift between the two. And "I am not sure that the participants in those discussions know what the outcome will be," he said.

Tucker Exchanging Law Career For Seminary

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
Minden—They say life begins at 40. "I sure hope so," replies Dean C. Tucker, prominent Minden attorney.
After more than 15 years among the law books, he is closing them forever. The 39-year-old lawyer will enter Princeton Theological Seminary in June to study to become a United Presbyterian minister.
"It was quite a decision to make," admits the present Kearney County attorney, regarded as one of the community leaders. "It was now or never."
He says he has been thinking of the ministry for several years.
The reason is a simple one, Tucker insists. "I simply felt the calling and for the first time, I am in a position to answer."
He says, "My savings are ample to keep my family for the 3 years of school. Before, I could not ask them to make the sacrifice."

DEAN C. TUCKER . . . the call was answered.

Halaby Denies Demanding To Get Priority

Washington (UPI)—Federal aviation administrator Na-Jeeb E. Halaby angrily denied Wednesday that he demanded takeoff priority from the control tower at Love Field, Dallas, last week.
The charge was made by Dallas Mayor Earle Cabell, who told the city council Tuesday that Halaby tried to get a takeoff clearance before 8 other flights. Cabell said the tower told the FAA chief only the President and vice president of the United States have priority in air traffic control.
Halaby, in a telegram to Cabell, challenged him to read to the City Council the complete tape and transcript of his "routine" communications with the tower on the day of the alleged incident. Halaby left Dallas last Wednesday after receiving an award from the Aviation-Space Writers Convention.
The tape, as furnished United Press International, showed no mention of any priority request. Halaby, in the transcript, merely asked how much traffic was ahead of him, and was told and acknowledged the information. From the time his FAA plane left the ramp to takeoff clearance took 15 minutes.

Grandsinger In Trouble; Faces Federal Charge

Omaha (U)—Lloyd Grandsinger, once sentenced to death for the slaying of a Nebraska state trooper, was in trouble with federal authorities Wednesday.
Grandsinger appeared before U.S. Commissioner Anthony Z. Donato on a charge of transporting a stolen car across state lines. Donato explained to Grandsinger that federal authorities here are awaiting the warrant and the certified complaint from authorities in Salt Lake City. He fixed bond at $1,000 and Grandsinger provided it.
Grandsinger was convicted of the slaying of State Trooper Marvin Hansen April 8, 1954, with a single shot from a .22 caliber pistol at a road block near Valentine. He won a new trial and was acquitted.

Contracts for 3 additional structures in the Upper Salt-Wahoo Pilot Project will be let shortly, Schroeder announced.

Cappelano Tried To Chew Up Bet Slip, Says Quist

Omaha (U)—Patrolman John Quist said he and a fellow officer saw Paul Cappelano Sr., 50, pop a bet slip into his mouth during a May 4 raid at the Farnam Gift Shop.
He tried unsuccessfully to chew up the slip, the officer said, and then spit it out.
Quist testified in Municipal Court that the slip was recovered along with records of 104 bets found in a drawer.
Judge L. Ross Newkirk sentenced Cappelano to 30 days in jail and fined him $100 as keeper of a disorderly house. Cappelano posted a $500 appeal bond.

Holdrege (UPI)—The wife of escape artist Lloyd E. Enfield passed him a hacksaw blade and he sawed his way to freedom from Phelps County jail. Sheriff's officers said.
Enfield's illustrious escape career includes two breaks from the Oregon State Prison and two from the Washington State Prison, officers said.
He was being held for Portland, Ore., authorities after paying a $10 fine and making restitution here for several insufficient fund checks.
Enfield was arrested at North Platte for giving several firms here the insufficient fund checks. He had appeared in county court Tuesday.
Officers said he was "not a small man" but he managed to crawl from a 7½ by 13 inch hole after cutting through just one bar.
The wife had purchased some blades at a store, officers said.

Accident Hurts Captain's Wife

Mrs. Janet Lightfoot was treated at Byran Memorial Hospital early Thursday for facial lacerations and other injuries she received in an auto accident on West O about midnight Wednesday.
She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Capt. C. E. Lightfoot of Lincoln Air Force Base, when it and one driven by Charles Peterson, 16, of 350 No. 35th, collided.
Police said Lightfoot was going west on O and the Peterson vehicle was crossing O going north from the drive of the West O Drive-In Theater.

Omahan Dies From Burns

Omaha (U)—Kenneth Kidder, 35, who was burned in a fire at the family apartment Tuesday, died in a hospital Wednesday morning.
Kidder's 35-year-old wife remained in serious condition at a hospital Wednesday after being carried with her husband and children from the apartment.
The couple's two children, 18 months old Michael, and 2-month-old Gregory were reported in fair condition. Michael suffered burns, but his brother was hospitalized for smoke inhalation.
Fire men snatched all 4 from the flames in answering an alarm at a duplex. The basement was an inferno when fire fighters arrived.

Larry Wayne Paxson, Alpha, has been awarded a scholarship for a year of graduate study at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., beginning this fall. He will be graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan in June with a B.A. degree in education.
The award, a Shell Merit 5th year scholarship, will enable Paxson to devote a year to learning of new developments in high school curriculums and subject matter. He plans to teach high school mathematics.
While at Stanford, Paxson's tuition and fees will be paid, and he will receive a sum for personal use.
At Nebraska Wesleyan, Paxson has been a member of the National Student Education Association, Young Republicans, and the varsity golf team, in addition to holding various fraternity offices. He was graduated from Alma High School in 1959.

Place Of The President

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With the desegregation issue looming ever larger on the American horizon, it has been proposed by Negro leader Rev. Martin Luther King that President Kennedy personally escort a Negro into a southern university where the integration test will be made this fall. The suggestion is in line with the more militant attitude prevailing among Negroes in their drive for full citizenship on both a public and private level.

It is not at all likely that the President would take this much of a personal part in southern integration matters and there is serious question as to whether he should. The question, however, does not center as one might first suspect upon a matter of propriety. Some might argue that the President simply should not take such a personal part in these matters—that it is the weight of his office that should be felt on issues, not the President as an individual. There is an element of truth to this until you extend the matter beyond the question of integration. If the distinction between the individual and the office of President is drawn on integration, it would have to be drawn on all matters.

Therefore, we would find precious few times during which the President left Washington for a hand in the affairs of the nation. Yet, he has done considerable traveling and made a number of personal appearances before key groups in pushing his income tax reform.

He might have taken a more active part in the recent wheat referendum, even though his campaigning probably would not have turned the massive tide against the program. He has thrown himself into the thick of local political battles in just about all parts of the country. In none of these cases has he been criticized for the part he has played or might have played.

Yet, if he were to personally lead a Negro student against the governor of Alabama in an effort to break the educational color line there, a great many people would undoubtedly criticize him for it. This, again, is a measure of the discrimination that exists. If there is a valid reason for the President to refrain from any such action, it lies in our concern for his personal safety and in the simple availability of time. It would certainly not be too wise to place the President's life in jeopardy, especially in a matter so explosive as desegregation. Consider what the consequences could be if the President should be killed by some crackpot on either side of the racial fence. This would pour a fuel onto the fire that could create across our land a major and catastrophic conflagration. Even if the President did not fear for his own personal safety, he must recognize that more is involved than his own self. It is the sort of thing that is always feared between nations when heads of states gather for meetings. Assassinations have in the past been either direct or secondary causes of the absolute and complete breakdown of relations between nations. And we know what assassination can do within a nation itself. Beyond this, the President's schedule is one that allows for little spare time. It would simply be an impossibility to spread the President thin enough to do all those things that people might consider it well and advisable for him to do. Better than anyone else in the nation, he knows how short are the 24 hours allotted one day.

In another area of the news, we find just how significant every action of the President is and how important we consider every aspect of his life. Sometimes, in fact, we seem to carry it to extreme. President Kennedy has celebrated his 46th birthday this week and the event was covered with a detailed rundown of the state of his health.

Not only did we get into the state of his ailing back and the lingering effects of war-time malaria, but we were informed he had "a stubborn skin ailment." However, what any two people might think is a stubborn skin ailment could well be two different things. Not many people, we believe, would consider a blemish on the left cheek as a stubborn skin ailment.

Yet, the Associated Press devoted considerable space to a discussion of this blemish. "The blemish," dutifully noted the AP, "described as not serious, was first noticed by newsmen on Feb. 21. It has persisted. The press secretary declines to say whether Kennedy is taking any medication for this or any other ailment. However, the President has been seen taking pills in recent weeks." Imagine that, seen taking pills! We wonder if that is anything like being caught in your bathrobe with the unexpected arrival of company? If it were possible to fracture an eyebrow and the President did it, we would undoubtedly be quickly informed of it.

Somehow or other, such things seem to add a feeling of closer relationship with the President on the part of people in general. When they consider the fact that he has a blemish, a button off his shirt, a finger cut in slicing bread, a hangnail or some other trivia, they are reminded that he is, after all, quite human despite the office he holds.

Day Of Reflection

Today is a day on which the American people cast a backward glance in thanks to those who have gone before them. Primarily, it is meant to honor those who have died in war but is practiced as a tribute to all the dead. But the day really is for the living because they are the ones who stand to profit from their recollection of and reflection on the past.

It is in looking at this past that we come to realize the sacrifices that have been made for us by others and to bring freshly to our minds the responsibilities this heaps upon us. How often President Kennedy has spoken of the responsibilities of the citizens and how little real head is actually given this admonition. Apathy still remains as perhaps the greatest single obstacle to our progress.

We cannot look back, however, without seeing that all that we have today has been bought at a high price—paid by someone other than ourselves. Particularly, members of the armed forces who died in their dedication to and struggle for the cause of freedom paid the highest price that can be levied for the privileges we enjoy today.

They did not do this with any thought in mind that the freedom so won should be frittered away in selfishness, bitterness, partisanship or ignorance. They did it because they realized that freedom demands sacrifice, that with privilege goes responsibility, and they expected that such a principle would never be forgotten.

If we give meaning to the thoughts that should occupy us on this day, we shall fulfill the trust that has been placed in us by generations that have gone before us. This is why Memorial Day is really for the living, for the future, because it provides security through understanding and appreciation of the cause of democracy.

The Past Is Catching Up

The best description of the continuing debate between Congress and the Post Office Department is that it is both unsatisfactory, and, thus far, leading to nowhere in particular.

It started with the department asking for a budget of $3.9 billion. The House responded by cutting it by $70 million. The postmaster general then retaliated by threatening to cut out Saturday deliveries. The Senate then restored $50 million of the cut.

Thus far all we can get out of that is that Congress doesn't wish to put up $3.9 billion, whatever the facts of the case. And as far as cutting out Saturday delivery, it is difficult to see where fewer deliveries will materially reduce the volume of business. It will just make it harder to deliver and produce less satisfaction. Neither approach gets to the nub of the problem.

The Departing Professors

The Associated Press, reminding of the riots at the University of Mississippi over the admission of James Meredith, functioned in the true character of good reporting by going back over the field recently to see what the effect had been on the university faculty.

It found that 35 professors, now that

While the debate is going on the special presidential Post Office Department Advisory board estimated that the current 65 billion pieces of mail handled annually at present will become 125 billion pieces by 1980. It also notes that while ordinary business sets aside 1.5 per cent of income for efficiency research the Post Office Department sets aside only a paltry 0.27 per cent and even little more than that for effecting the improvement suggested by the research. A result is the post office now has but 233 pieces of automatic machinery in use in 29 of its 4,500 post offices. Moreover, it has no provision for something like $2 billion needed to modernize the service. It appears from this that the problem has already gone too long without rationalization, and only losses have resulted from too much austerity.

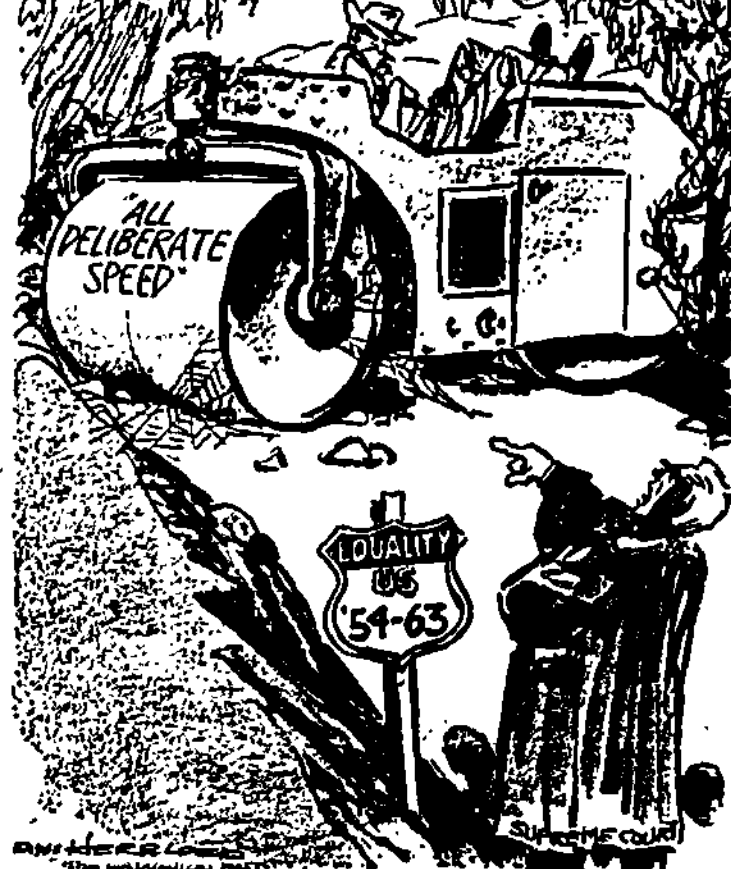

the term is over, are leaving the university in order to continue their careers in a more satisfactory environment.

The departure of 35 professors must be considered a serious emigration in light of the fact that the University of Mississippi maintains a faculty of approximately 100 professors.

It is probable that some of the departing teachers would have gone anyway in the usual course of opportunity for advancement, but the Associated Press was able to ascertain that 21 of the 35 left primarily because of the Meredith crisis.

Many will consider this a judgment on Mississippi and its university, a form of punishment that Mississippi will rue. The reverse will probably be the case. Now that the dissident professors have gone, the element of resistance represented by them has gone, too. They can be replaced with professors quite in sympathy with Mississippi's devotion to segregation. The school will be in a position to put up a more solid front against any liberalizing pressures.

Leaving the scene is not necessarily a virtue. It might have been better had the 35 professors, sensing the challenge, chosen to remain and pursue the case for academic freedom. In the long run they might have prevailed.

Kennedy Problem, How Much To Yield?

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy was bluntly asked by a group of callers the other day whether he had not missed the boat in not taking advantage of Khrushchev's friendly overtures to the United States after the Cuban crisis.

The question came up in connection with Pope John's Easter Encyclical "Peace On Earth" in which he advocated a policy of co-existence with the communist world.

The President's reply was that there "may be something to the argument that those who sooner or later replace Mr. Khrushchev may be much tougher to deal with."

"But we simply cannot give Mr. K certain things in order to strengthen his personal position in the Soviet Union or the Bloc, because to do so would involve diplomatic surrender on the part of the United States — even though I have serious reservations about the survival of the human race if we continue to experience a series of crises any one of which could explode into nuclear war."

"There is no doubt a limit to the number of crises that can be endured without accident or miscalculation," the President continued earnestly, "and we can all make such miscalculations—causing nuclear weapons to become active — with the consequences that I am sure justify my reservations about the survival of humanity."

"But I just do not see how we can be expected to make arrangements with Mr. Khrushchev on any one of a number of questions — test ban, Berlin, disarmament, and so forth — easier as he may be to deal with than others in his camp, the Chinese certainly — when these arrangements would amount to diplomatic defeat or serious compromise on our part."

"And it seems evident that the only kind of settlement which would strengthen Mr. Khrushchev personally in the Bloc," concluded Kennedy, "would be a settlement representing surrender by us or certain vital interests relating to our national security."

Some State Department advisers don't agree with the President on this point. They point out that after the Cuban crisis, the U.S. ambassador, Foy Kohler, reported that Khrushchev was on top as far as the Red Army was concerned. Then followed his overtures to Washington which were rebuffed. In recent weeks the American embassy has reported that the Red army generals and the hard line are back on top.

Fidel Castro even made the remark at a Moscow reception that Khrushchev always had a baby-sitter with him—Marshal Malinovsky, minister of defense, who always sat in on conversations between Khrushchev and Castro.

Some U.S. military experts and scientists also argue that minor concessions such as fewer nuclear inspections on Soviet soil would not have jeopardized U.S. security, inasmuch as underground testing, the only issue involved, is confined, cumbersome and expensive.

They do agree that bargaining with Khrushchev will now be far more difficult. He is no longer completely in the driver's seat.

Women's Disorganization Essential To The Long Life

NEW YORK — The American housewife walks, literally, hundreds of miles in her lifetime—looking for her scissors.

Or for her spectacles. Or for those other elusive necessities, her checkbook, her laundry list, her youngest and most independent offspring.

The result of this seemingly foolhardy forgetfulness is that she lives a longer and happier, if more befuddled, life than her less addle-nogged husband.

However ridiculous the reason, she gets more exercise than he does.

Dr. Frank Gallup, the polls man, reveals that the American husband tries very hard to make life easier for his wife, but that she is too illogical to take advantage of his kindnesses. He buys her marvelous labor-saving gadgets for her kitchen and her laundry. He puts heavy appliances on low shelves so she won't have to lift them. He installs handy hooks for those always-missing sewing scissors so she cannot possibly lose them. In all ways, he encourages her to lead a life of ease and efficiency.

But she doesn't get with it. Within hours after her husband has provided her with a convenient organizational system, the average housewife reverts back to her old way of doing (and over-doing) things.

Hence, a woman's work—her unnecessary stoop-squat-squint and hoist—is never done. She is constantly on the go, exercising, while her efficient husband is sitting himself into senility.

Oh, he shakes his head, of course. But as an exercise in physical fitness, this motion has negligible results.

A woman lives longer. Gallup and everyone must conclude, "not despite her stupidity, but because of it."

Millions of American children have never swum in an "ol swimmin'" hole.

Still more millions have never milked a cow, gathered eggs, fed the pigs or broken a leg jumping off a haymow.

Having done most of these things at one time in my grimy-faced youth, I know what they're missing. A city kid doesn't forget his visit to a farm. It nestles in his memory somewhere—ranked considerably below his first kiss, and somewhat above his first bee sting.

On the theory that all city-living families are weary of concrete sidewalks, movies, museums and the easy life, and would therefore like to expose their youngsters to a brush with the grass roots of America, an outfit named "Farm Vacations And Holidays, Inc.," annually persuades thousands to partake of some old-fashioned country hospitality. For an average of $45 per week per adult, and $25 for each child, a family can live with a farmer or rancher in any of 31 states or three Canadian provinces, meals and tax included.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: I am on a milk diet. Raw milk is rather hard to get, so instead of the pasteurized variety, would you recommend butter milk from a dairy?—MRS. E. M. PASTEURIZATION

Pasteurization was adopted because it prevents so many diseases, such as undulant fever, tuberculosis and typhoid fever. These and others have been traced to milk that became contaminated, either because of disease in cattle, or some other source.

Pasteurization doesn't change the nutritional value of milk. It simply destroys germs.

Raw milk is dangerous. Don't take a chance.

I don't suppose I can quibble with people who insist on trying a milk diet. It is not as good as a balanced one of elements which milk alone cannot provide. Drink buttermilk if you prefer. But it also requires pasteurization.

Dear Doctor: Is it all right to drink milk with your meal? Someone tells me that one should drink only water with the meal, and milk afterwards.

—MRS. E. D., JR.

"Someone," I regret to say, is trying to foist off on you an old wives' tale. There's no reason why you shouldn't drink milk with your meals.

Dear Dr. Molner: When surgery on the discs of the neck is necessary, where is the cutting done, front or back? Is the bone graft taken from the hip?—MRS. C. A.

The operation is done from the back of the neck. Sometimes the disc or pad of tissue is removed from between the vertebrae; sometimes a fusion is done—transplanting a piece of bone to hold two vertebrae rigidly in alignment. The bone graft is usually taken from the shin.

Dear Dr. Molner: Have you had any experience with allergies caused by wearing materials made of nylon or orlon? Using them in any form causes severe pains in my arms and shoulders. What can be done for this trouble?—R. E.

Many doctors have had experience with this sort of problem. Whether it's nylon, or ragweed, or cow's milk, or nickel-plated metal, or broom handles, or eggs or wheat or strawberries, somebody is allergic. I could name a thousand or several thousand other things, because there are millions of people, and thousands of materials, and millions of cases in which somebody is allergic to something.

The usual results of allergy are redness, rash, itching or swelling, rather than pain. If you wear nylon hosiery and your shoulders hurt, I suspect that an idea, or fixation of some sort, is at work, rather than a true allergy. But the actions of allergy are not very predictable.

Wear clothes that are made of silk, cotton, wool, or linen. (Some of these, especially wool, can cause allergies.) If you can pinpoint any particular fabric, you have your problem at least half solved, and maybe almost completely solved.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does sodium pentothal, when used as an anesthetic, have any after-effects, long-term or immediate?—M. C.

It is eliminated rapidly by the body, and has no long-term effects when used in the amounts required for anesthesia.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a B. M. R. test?—MRS. A. R. A "basal metabolism reading," meaning the rate at which you metabolize your food, or turn it into energy. Since the rate at which you do so is approximately parallel to the rate at which you use up oxygen, the test is performed by having you breathe through a tube from a tank of oxygen. The amount used is calculated with age, weight and body surface area, giving an index of how rapidly you metabolize.

The thyroid gland dominates metabolism. The test is in effect an index of whether the thyroid is normal, overactive or underactive.

Dear Dr. Molner: We are soon moving into an apartment that is not as yet completed. I wonder if the new plaster will cause any dampness, as I took treatment several years ago for cardiac asthma.—MRS. C. M.

There is always finishing work to do after the plastering. If the walls are to be covered with oil paint, the plaster must first be dry. This doesn't take very long.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is "thyroid heart" and should a person with it be allowed to smoke?—M. C. D.

"Thyroid heart" is heart disease caused by an over-active thyroid gland. It causes extreme nervousness, rapid heart beat, shortness of breath. The condition is corrected by treating the thyroid disorder. Smoking should not be allowed. Excessive coffee or other stimulants should be avoided, too.

Ticket Targets

Lincoln, Neb.

Sometimes it may seem to teenagers that every traffic cop on the highway is out gunning for them, that traffic laws were written just to bug them and that they are nothing but "ticket targets."

They may often wonder if adults are not aware that teenagers not only have better vision but much faster reflexes than adults. Shouldn't this prove that teenagers are better drivers than a lot of squares who poke along on the highways?

So, why should law-enforcement agencies single out the teenagers for traffic crackdowns? Why are insurance rates so high for the "under 25-year-old" driver?

First, the "under-25" group represents nationally about 15 per cent of the total motorizing population. Yet this same group is reported as responsible for about 35 per cent of all traffic accidents—twice as many as any other age group! And insurance company records indicate that such accidents are more severe and from 2½ to 5 times as costly as those caused by other drivers. Any show-off who thinks that taking a 30 mph curve at 60 and coming out of it is being able to "handle a car well" is just kidding himself. Traffic officers are well aware of these facts so when they see a car full of young bucks careening down the highway at high speed and in a reckless manner, they can almost make book that it's just another accident going somewhere to happen.

There is no argument that the young driver's reflexes are much faster than those of older drivers, but the ability to step on the brake faster is not enough. One must not only be able to react quickly, but correctly. It's judgment that is the major factor when an emergency situation develops.

It's a pretty dismal picture and the story is the same across the country. That is why many states are presently considering substituting license suspensions and fines for scoldings. And that's why insurance companies who have constantly paid out more money in claims than they have collected in premiums take a dim view of the young driver as a good insurance risk.

Any teenager who wants to stop being a "ticket target" will quit showing off and stop violating traffic laws and regulations which were set up to govern the safe conduct of all who use our highways.

'Yes' Vote

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to the letter from "Disillusioned" concerning his affront at seeing the "mantle of nobility" slip from the sweat-and-dirt-stained brow of the farmer as he voted "no" to more government "snooper-vision" and a big "yes" to freedom to run his business as he sees fit — "Disillusioned" calls himself a "detached observer" but let him become better acquainted with the work, sweat and tears of farm life before he would advise farmers to willingly shackle themselves in "big government's" chains.

Letter To Freeman

Alexandria, Neb.

I am mailing a letter to Mr. Orville Freeman about the wheat referendum. Here are the contents:

"My boys and I were very disheartened by the negative wheat vote (540 acres of wheat we are allowed). We have been going into the wheat program by cutting our acreage 40% and not buying any fertilizer, as we figure it foolish to spend money to raise something not needed, outside of good farm practice."

"After really considering the vote, although this was the best bill by far that we've ever had, it was still only 80% of parity, or 80 cents on the dollar, and so the farmer was gradually dying on the vine and having to quit eventually and move to town and compete with the city workers. So therefore he just decided to com### mit suicide faster and get it over with

"I think if we are to raise only what wheat we really need, which is right, we should get 100% of parity for it, because wheat in the past has very seldom gone over two cents above the loan, and with the two-price system, it never will go above the loan, so 80% of parity will still mean only 80 cents on the dollar, on which no business can operate."

"Thank you for your down-to-earth interest in the farmer."

Cheers Farmers

Flandreau, S.D.

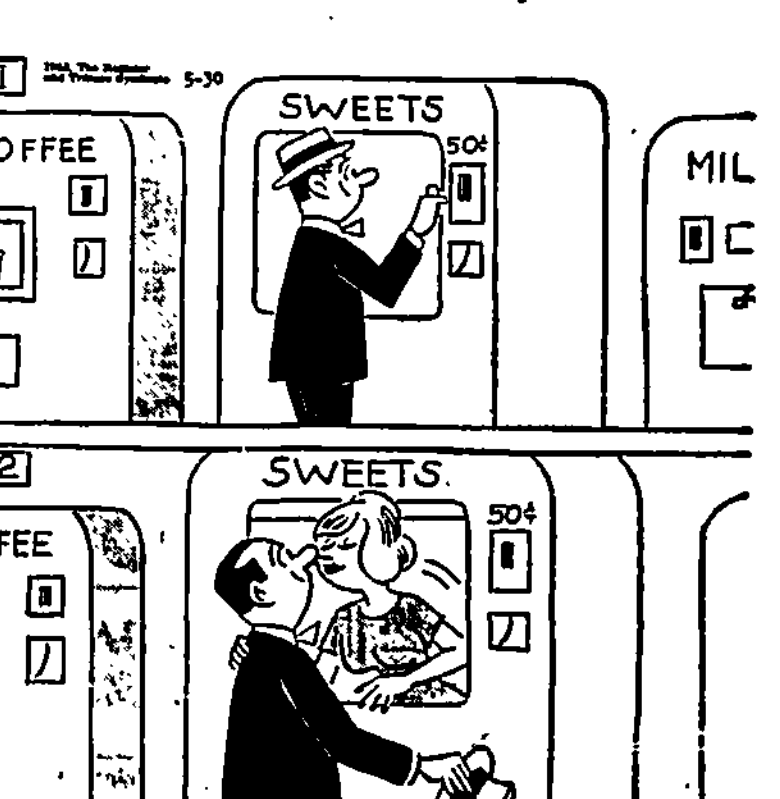

In reaction to the intelligent composition sent in by "Disillusioned," let me state that I am so proud of the farmers of this country. They had the courage to say "no" to further government controls and to take their chances on what the future might bring.

Since "Disillusioned" didn't choose to make his or her name known, I would surmise that this person has probably been a parasite all ways, if not on the government, then on some relative or other unfortunate. Perhaps this writer even tried farming and didn't have the courage, stamina or faith that it takes to make a good farmer.

More power to the American farmer and may he prosper through the years to come in spite of the poor, sniveling wailers like "Disillusioned."

National Life Control To Lincoln Co.

Pierre, S.D. (AP)—The sale of controlling interest in the National Life of America Insurance Co. of Sioux Falls to the Lincoln Liberty Life Insurance Co. of Lincoln, Neb., was announced Wednesday by South Dakota Insurance Commissioner Robert Hurlbut.

He said controlling interest in National Life, beset with legal problems in the last several months, was purchased from the Leo Corrigan interests of Dallas, Tex. The purchase price was not disclosed. The South Dakota Insurance Merger Commission, composed of Hurlbut, the governor and attorney general, recently turned down a proposal to merge National Life with the Texas Reserve Life Insurance Co. of San Antonio. The commission said that merger would not have been in the best interests of the policyholders and stockholders.

Board Unaltered

Officials of Lincoln Liberty said South Dakota members of National Life's board of directors would remain the same.

Four new out-of-state directors were named, however. They are Ted Frazier, Marden Miller and D. H. Pinkerton, all of Lincoln, and Lloyd Bentsen Jr., of Houston, Tex. Lincoln Liberty officials said there are no plans at present to effect either a new merger or move National Life headquarters out of Sioux Falls. The company previously had been located at Mitchell, S.D. National Life has approximately $11 million in assets and about $32 million of life insurance in force. Lincoln Liberty Life lists assets of $38,750,636 and insurance in force of $261,755,583.

9-Year-Old Hurt When He Runs Into Car's Path

Michael Danley, 9, of 135 So. 26th, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released Wednesday after he ran out in front of a car on 27th between M and N. Officer Mark Rogers identified the driver of the car as Evan E. Hall, 51, of 3830 B. Lt. Reynold McMeen said the Danley boy and several others recently have been injured — some slightly, some seriously — because they run into the street without looking first. McMeen said children are getting out of school, playing outside and many times forget about traffic while playing near or in the street. Drivers should be extra-careful during the summer months when children are playing outdoors and are not always supervised, according to McMeen.

Fate Of Reserve Bank Securities Undetermined By Study

Washington (AP) — A congressional treasure hunt failed to determine Wednesday whether $7.5 million in missing U.S. securities that disappeared from the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank were destroyed or stolen.

The majority report of a 3-man House banking subcommittee that conducted the probe sharply criticized the bank on grounds of deficient procedures in accounting for securities, for delaying announcement of the loss, and for what it called an incomplete investigation.

And of the bank's theory that the 7 $1-million and $500,000 certificates were accidentally destroyed, the majority said:

Just Theory

"There is no actual evidence of accidental discolor or burning. It is purely a circumstantial theory."

These findings by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., subcommittee chairman, and Charles A. Vanik, D-Ill., were rejected by Rep. Burt L. Talcott, R-Calif.

"The circumstantial evidence is overwhelmingly clear that they (the certificates) were not stolen. And... the likelihood of any loss to anyone is exceedingly remote," he said.

The full House Banking Committee ordered both the majority and minority views published and made public Wednesday, ending a long delay caused by a largely party-line dispute that cropped up during the investigation over criticism of the Federal Reserve System.

Detected Aug. 8

The loss of the securities was detected last Aug. 8, Federal Reserve banks and branches but not commercial banks were alerted Sept. 19 and newsmen informed March 27 after the story had been broken by a San Francisco newspaper, The Examiner.

The bank theorized the securities were inadvertently left in an envelope by an employee transferring securities to a new container, and were subsequently destroyed. An investigation by bank officials and the Secret Service concluded that theft was highly unlikely.

The Reuss-Vanik report claimed the Secret Service "placed an inordinate reliance on the lie detector tests given 18 employees..."

"We are not convinced..." they added, that it would be virtually impossible for anyone obtaining the securities wrongfully to make use of them, adding: "Such securities could be used as collateral for business loans either here or abroad."

Deficient

They said the bank's procedures in accounting for securities were deficient on 9 counts, should be tightened, there should be more central direction from the Federal Reserve Board. They noted in an aside that "neither the Federal Reserve Board nor the district banks are subject to an outside audit."

Talcott, in his report, called the investigation "as thorough as could be reasonably expected," and the conclusion indicated by the evidence is "simple inadvertent incineration."

He said this position is bolstered by the fact that the certificates, which became due May 15, 1963, have not been presented for payment, nor their $243,750 in interest coupons cashed.

Rusk Asking Ecuador To Release Tuna Boats

Quito, Ecuador (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked Ecuador on Wednesday to release immediately two American tuna boats seized by Ecuadorian naval vessels on charges of violating territorial waters.

A congressman in Washington said during the day he had a report that an Ecuadorian ship fired across the bow of a tuna boat.

Rusk made his demand in a telephone call to Ecuadorian Foreign Minister Benjamin Peralta and offered to send officials to Quito to negotiate a settlement.

The two boats, the White Star and the Ranger of San Diego, Calif., have been detained since Saturday. They are being escorted to an Ecuadorian port by a patrol boat and a destroyer.

In Washington, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., quoted Peralta as assuring Rusk that the two ships would be taken to the port of Salinas instead of Manta. Rusk, according to Van Deerlin, said the United States was greatly concerned over the possibility of violence if the two boats were taken to the port of Manta. (Van Deerlin said he understood there is a strong Communist element in Manta.)

Reports here are that 19 other American vessels that were fishing with the seized vessels are moving behind them in a gesture of solidarity.

The chief of staff of Ecuador's Navy, Cmdr. Francisco Espinosa, said the seized vessels had been operating within the 3-mile limit. The Tuna Association of California said they were 13 miles off the coast.

Van Deerlin reported he had information direct from the tuna fleet that an Ecuadorian gunboat had fired across the bow of the tuna boat Hornet, apparently as a result of a misunderstanding.

Informants in Washington said the shot did not hit anybody. Details were lacking.

But word of the shooting stirred excitement around the State Department. Deputy Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson called in Ecuadorian Minister Eduardo Arosemena and protested against any shooting.

Cyclonic Winds In Pakistan Devastate 5,000 Mile Area

Dacca, East Pakistan (UPI)—Cyclonic winds up to 140 miles an hour devastated 5,000 square miles of East Pakistan's coastal areas early Wednesday. Heavy loss of life was feared from the storm and a tidal flood it created.

Communications were disrupted. Aviators flying over the area said houses and huts were smashed like match boxes and that ships at anchor at Chittagong capsized.

Unofficial estimates said the death toll could go as high as 1,000 but there was no immediate confirmation. A cyclone in the area 3 years ago killed 15,000 persons.

A Pakistan International Airways plane said it could not land at Chittagong because of water and wreckage on the runway.

The civil aviation control tower at Dacca reported it was unable to establish contact with Chittagong. A wireless station operated by the East Pakistan Rifles Battalion also was reported out.

Authorities said the fringe of the cyclonic storm, which originated in a deep depression in the Bay of Bengal, swept the coastal areas first Tuesday night with 85 mile winds and that 5 hours later a cyclone with 140 mile winds hit the same area.

Officials said the offshore islands of Kutubdia, Hailiya and Hakeskhali inside the Bay of Bengal were hit by the storm and by a tidal flood 90 miles south of Chittagong. The government tried in vain to send relief supplies. Planes could not land and rail lines were cut.

Railway Commissioners Salary Increase Stalled

A bill to increase the salary of Nebraska state railway commissioners got stalled in the Legislature Wednesday for lack of support.

Not even the disclosure that there are truck drivers in the state who earn more than $13,000 per year could sway the lawmakers into majority support of the measure to hike the pay of commissioners from $8,000 to $10,000 per year.

A motion to advance the salary bill, LB634, from general file received a 15-15 tie vote and Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, the presiding officer casting the tie-breaking vote, declared the motion lost.

For the time being, the bill thus rests on general file, awaiting a kill motion or reconsideration.

Introduced by Sen. William Skarda Jr. of Omaha and Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, LB634 as amended also would increase the salary of the Railway Commission secretary from $7,000 to $8,000 per year.

Skarda cited for colleagues the salaries paid to top truck drivers by one of the transportation firms regulated by the commission. The salaries ranged up to $13,631.

With the increase incorporated in LB634, 29 states still would be paying their commissioners more than would Nebraska, he said.

Lawmakers gave routine 29-0 advancement to LB542, which authorizes truckers to shift their loads without penalty to correct an overload on one axle or set of wheels when the gross load is not overweight.

Other bills advanced from general file Wednesday included:

CPPD's Attacks On Lincoln Power Bill Hit

Lancaster County's legislative delegation Wednesday replied to recent attacks on LB633 by Consumers Public Power District (CPPD) officials.

The bill provides for Lincoln operation of Consumers Lincoln distribution system prior to 1972 and removes voter approval requirements. It is scheduled for final reading next week.

In a joint statement, Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme and Marvin Stromer, both of Lincoln, and Jerry Warner of Waverly said:

towns in Lancaster County would be orphaned from the Lincoln district and would have to be rearranged under the outside operational organization of CPPD.

Too, he said, the Nebraska attorney general has ruled LB633 does not provide a vote for the people of Lincoln who might want to express their convictions on City Council action.

Terry Attacks Governor's Stand On Corporation Tax

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff Wednesday leveled sharp criticism at Governor Morrison for the chief executive's stand on LB15.

Morrison, Carpenter said in an interview, "is as inconsistent on this as he has been on other things. He is so anxious to do things for important people with the hope they will reciprocate in campaign contributions and support."

Morrison said Tuesday he fears the bill, changing the method of taxing Nebraska corporations, would cast an iron curtain around the state and discourage new industry from locating in Nebraska.

"The only iron curtain I can see," Carpenter said, "is the one he (Morrison) has voluntarily thrown over his own eyes and mind in order to implement the unfair application of taxation."

Carpenter said the governor has never appeared before a standing committee in support of revenue raising bills.

"He has given lip service to some bills in an attempt to get a free ride on the work of others," the Scottsbluff County lawmaker charged.

Carpenter reaffirmed his belief that if the bill is passed, the state and its political subdivisions would realize $30 million more in revenue annually.

"The people who pay real estate taxes are subsidizing Nebraska corporations at the rate of over $30 million per year," he said. "I'm sure if they understood this, they wouldn't like it any better than I do."

The measure was introduced by Carpenter and has been criticized by several corporation executives also.

Specifically, the bill would apply a 4-mill tax on the stock in domestic and foreign domesticated corporations operating in Nebraska. Such corporations are presently exempt from the tax.

Legislative Bills Introduced

Bills introduced in the Legislature Wednesday:

LB129 (At governor's request; E. Rasmussen, Payne, Orme)—Providing that records of all Nebraska institutions shall be accessible to federal agencies returning medical records to adjudicate claims for federal benefits.

Only One More Bill Needed To Gain 800 Mark

Nebraska's Legislature needs to receive only one more new bill to reach the unprecedented mark of 800 for bills introduced.

Received Wednesday as LB799 was a measure to provide that records of all Nebraska institutions under the Department of Public Institutions shall be accessible to federal agencies requiring medical records to adjudicate claims for federal benefits.

The bill was introduced on the recommendation of Gov. Frank Morrison and delivered by Sens. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont, Dale Payne of Papillion and Fern Orme of Lincoln.

The Unicameral has been setting a session record for bills introduced ever since it received LB740 early in the session. The record of 739 was set in 1959.

Ag Product Research Shift Nixed

The Legislature rebuffed 34-1 Wednesday a proposal that the administration of Nebraska's tax-financed research into new uses for agricultural products be handled by the University of Nebraska's College of Agriculture instead of the State Agriculture Department.

The vote was accorded an amendment by Sen. T. C. Reeves of Central City as LB795 showed up for first floor debate on general file.

LB795 would extend for another 4 years—to 1968—the special one-tenth mill property levy for the Nebraska Agricultural Products Research Fund, currently due to expire next year after 6 years in force.

A motion by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha to make it a 2-year extension instead of a 4-year extension was shouted down but advancement of the bill was deferred until action can be taken on a related measure broadening the uses to which the tax money can be put.

Klaver maintained that the Legislature "should take a look" at the program every two years, just as the board of directors of a corporation periodically reviews its programs.

But several senators arose to point out that research is long range and continuing business.

Reeves, advocating removal of the program from State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan's department, said he would "like to have it in a new environment," avoiding any "political implications."

Right To 'Frisk' Bill Is Passed

A bill making clear the right of lawmen to "frisk" suspect law violators was one of 6 passed by the Legislature on final reading Wednesday.

The measure, LB675, introduced by Sens. Eugene Mahoney and George Syas of Omaha, was approved 34-1.

The bill authorizes a law enforcement officer to search any individual for weapons when the circumstances reasonably indicate such a search is advisable to protect the life of the officer.

Other bills passed Wednesday:

LB786 (McGlinley, Orme)—Clarifying provisions of decedent estate law as related to adopted children (36-0).

LB787 (Judiciary Committee)—Providing for the appointment of special guardians for mentally ill persons paroled or discharged from Nebraska State House (E) (36-0).

LB788 (Stromer, Bowen, Skarda)—Requiring signature of applicant on restrictive endorsements or riders on sickness and accident insurance policies (35-0).

LB776 (At governor's request; Bridenbaugh, Payne, McGlinley)—Authorizing Nebraska to enter into contracts with other states on standards for motor vehicle safety equipment (34-1).

LB790 (Banking Committee)—Setting salary of the state banking director at $10,000 per year, and eliminating a previous $2,000 limitation (24-1).

"Then the warm girl, with a warm smile, takes your bare chest and puts it against a cold, cold plate."
"Why does she do that, daddy?"
"I am not sure, daughter dear," I said. "Even in restaurants they warm the plate. But in the X-ray room the photographic plates are made of some heat-resistant metal. Furthermore, it is your father's opinion that they keep these slabs of metal in a deep freeze."

might want to know what time it is.
The lady slapped a pair of oversize calipers on my bare chest.
"Good heavens, girl! Those are cold."
"Now, now," she said soothingly. "Just step up and put your chest against that plate. Chin up. That's right." Ladies in X-ray, I have found, develop a false gaiety in their voices. Something like your own voice when you tell the child: "Wouldn't you rather play something else beside cooking the cat in the oven, dear?"

Well, dear hearts, I can remember when we did not have annual checkups. We just took an aspirin and said: "Maybe it will go away in an hour."

The medical men did not approve of this attitude. Nowadays, I cannot pick up a magazine without reading about all the horrid things that are happening to me.
"Annual checkups are your best insurance."
I read that in my own insurance company ad. At first I could not see why they should downgrade their own insurance. But I imagine they are taking the odds on their bet.
Insurance is peculiar. You must pass to your reward under very special, fine-printed circumstances. The more you see the doctor, the less chance they will have to pay off. It is a sound business.
Anyway, back at the X-ray Ranch: There you are with something buzzing in back of you. And you think, "She probably turned it on and forgot to turn it off. I am probably well-done, already." "Breathe deeply," she said. "Hold it."

I tell you a man standing around in his pants, with his chest against cold metal, is in bad psychological position.
"You may dress now," said the smiling lady, switching off the current and stepping out of the lead box.
That's that for one more year.

Omaha Sunday Closing Appealed

Officials of 6 Omaha drug stores Wednesday filed a brief with the Nebraska Supreme Court requesting the Omaha Sunday closing law be declared unconstitutional.
Specifically, the brief asks the Douglas County District Court decision, holding the city ordinance constitutional, be reversed.
The brief contends the ordinance is unconstitutional on these grounds:
—It interferes with religious freedom and rights of conscience and imposes a religious test.
—It denies equal protection of the laws to the citizens of the state and because it grants special privileges and immunities to persons not within the purview of its operation.
—It deprives all persons affected of their property without due process of law because it is unconstitutionally vague and indefinite.
The ordinance was enacted on Nov. 14, 1961, going into effect Jan. 13, 1962. The City of Omaha is named as appellee in the case.
Filing the brief were officials of Central Park Pharmacy, Center Street Pharmacy, Seig Drugs, Fontenelle Park Pharmacy, Donald Drug Co. and Florence Drug Co.

U. S. Pressure On Indonesians

Tokyo (U)—Quietly but firmly, the United States began exerting pressure Wednesday on—Indonesia's flamboyant President Sukarno.

A special emissary from President Kennedy met twice with vacationing Sukarno on Indonesia's plan to nationalize the multimillion-dollar investments of U.S. oil firms in the Southeast Asia island nation.

In the background was growing U.S. impatience with Sukarno's seeming inability to solve Indonesia's political and economic ills, despite about $100 million in U.S. aid annually, and his threats of

Red Artillery Boss Ousted From Position

Moscow (UPI) Chief Marshal of Artillery Sergei Varantsov has been ousted from his senior post in the Soviet armed forces and demoted for allegedly protecting convicted Russian spy Col. Oleg Penkovsky, the government newspaper Izvestia reported Wednesday.

Two other Soviet military officers identified as Maj. Gen. A. Poznovny and Col. V. Buzinov also have been disciplined for showing Penkovsky materials connected with their work, the newspaper said.

It was the first official disclosure that sanctions had been taken among high-ranking acquaintances of Penkovsky who was condemned to death by a court this month for allegedly passing Soviet military, economic and political secrets to an Anglo-American intelligence ring.

British businessman Greville Wynne, who stood trial for espionage with Penkovsky, was sentenced to 8 years confinement.

Big Bulldozer Hits House As Culprits Flee

Three small boys were ordered to report to Lt. Gail Gade, police juvenile officer, after they admitted starting an 11-ton bulldozer that crashed into the home of Mrs. Marguerite Ellwanger, 829 G, Wednesday.

Officer Warren Chastil said the boys told him they climbed aboard, started the machine, raised the scoop, and put it in forward gear.

Chastil said the boys, two who are 10 and one 8, then pushed the throttle wide open, said one of the 10-year-olds, "so we jumped off and ran to school."

Chastil said the machine continued to move and went over a retaining wall, between two trees and hit the side of the house, some 40 to 50 feet from where workmen from Al's Wrecking and Excavating Service had left it the night before.

"It pushed in the west wall of the house," said Chastil. "Mrs. Ellwanger was in the basement washing clothes."

After jumping from the machine, the boys didn't look back. The officer said he contacted them at school later in the morning.

BRITAIN, REDS FAVOR PEACE IN LAOS FEUD

Vientiane, Laos (U)—Britain and the Soviet Union appealed to feuding Laotian parties Wednesday to meet immediately and agree on ways to restore peace in this Southeast Asian kingdom.

The joint message from the co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos was delivered to the neutralist coalition premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, by Soviet Ambassador Sergei Afanassiev and the British Embassy counselor, John Denon.

The message said the co-chairmen noted Souvanna's statement May 17 that he is ready to agree to any inquiry and is ready at any time to discuss with the pro-Communist-Pathet Lao all questions in dispute.

The message added that the co-chairmen "fully endorse the desire of the neutralists in Laos, as expressed in the premier's message, for peace, concord and strict neutrality in Laos."

Smashup Injures Lincoln Man, 25; Arizona Girl, 5

Paul R. Vojtechoske, 25, of 4851 Holdrege, was listed in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital after a car he was riding in Wednesday morning was involved in a two-car accident on South between 17th and St. Mary's.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Maurice L. Lind, 33, of 5100 No. 73rd.

Police Sgt. William Jernigan said Lind's car was stopped for a red light at 17th and South when another auto struck it from behind.

Sgt. Jernigan identified the driver of the other car as Annie S. Chambers, 65, of 2144 A. Sue Corpstein, 5, of Phoenix, Ariz., a passenger in the Chambers car, was also taken to the hospital where she was treated for bruises and later released.

Bracero Plan Dies In House

Washington (U)—The House voted Wednesday to end the 21-year-old program under which U.S. farmers have been importing Mexican field hands — a practice labeled slave labor by one congressman.

A 174 to 158 roll-call vote turned down a bill that would have extended the so-called "Bracero" program until Dec. 31, 1965.

It was the 6th time an extension had been sought for the law enacted in 1951.

The Kennedy administration had recommended an extension of only one year. The vote came after more than two hours of debate.

Rep. John Fogarty, D-R.I., sounded the toughest note of opposition, telling the House: "If there was ever a slave labor piece of legislation adopted by the Congress, this is it."

Governor Seen In Dark Glasses

Gov. Frank Morrison was wearing dark glasses Wednesday to protect his eyes from the light following a minor operation on one of them the day before.

The governor disclosed that one of his eyelids had been secreting a sand-like substance which was rubbing against his pupil, causing a great deal of discomfort.

He visited a doctor Tuesday afternoon to have it removed. The governor expects the soreness will disappear in a day or so.

Royal Pair In France

Paris (UPI)—King Gustaf VI Adolf and Queen Louise of Sweden arrived for a 3-day state visit to France. They were greeted at the airport by President Charles de Gaulle and other high ranking officials.

Annie Smith Heads Local Library Group

Annie Laurie Smith was elected president of the Lincoln Library Association at the group's annual meeting Friday at the State Hospital's library.

Also chosen at the meeting were Nancy Burke, vice president and president-elect; William Berner, secretary, and Hazel Schelber, treasurer.

Grant! Received For Logan Creek Historical Study

A National Science Foundation grant has been received for archeological study of the Logan Creek complex, the Nebraska State Historical Society announced Wednesday.

Field work on this project is scheduled to start about June 10.

Tests so far indicate the Logan Creek complex, just south of Oakland, was inhabited over 8,000 years ago. Four cultural levels have been definitely identified there.

2-Block Downtown Plans Told

Preliminary plans for completely redeveloping the downtown Lincoln two-square-block area of 11th to 12th between N and P, were announced Wednesday.

The multimillion-dollar project, revealed by realtor Don Dixon and architect Kenneth Clark, includes construction of an 8-story, 350-room hotel, a Cinerama theater which would double as a convention theater, and business facilities.

The hotel is proposed for N between 11th and 12th, and the theater would be located on P between 11th and 12th.

Extending back from these structures toward O St. would be two-story business facilities, separated by malls. Overhead bridges for pedestrians would cross O St. to connect the blocks.

Dixon, vice president of H. A. Wolf Co., termed the redevelopment of downtown Lincoln "essential" but pointed out that the earliest possible completion of such a project would be 5 years.

"I have seen the downfall of downtown areas in other Midwestern cities; Lincoln does not have such a problem at this exact moment, but now is the time to take steps to prevent deterioration of the downtown business area," Dixon said.

He said the particular area has been selected because the improvements are generally old, and only one or two existing buildings are fire-proof.

"We are sure that if the plan develops, it will effect substantially more renewal outside the immediate core of the city," the realtor added.

Morris Finds JFK's Mental Plan Laudable

President Kennedy's "bold new approach" for treating the mentally ill received strong endorsement Wednesday from Nebraska Institutions Director George Morris.

The proposal, Morris said in an interview, fits in directly with Nebraska's recently-adopted plan for integrating mental health treatment in every community.

"The President's program is to be commended and I am sure will result in better over-all approach in the area of mental health," Morris said.

The administration's $847 million mental health bill was passed by the Senate Monday with only Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Nebr., dissenting.

Knows Not Why

Morris said he does not know why Curtis opposed the plan.

The bill calls for the federal government to help finance a system of community mental hospitals which would gradually replace traditional state hospitals and allow patients to be treated in their home environment near friends and relatives.

Expenditures under the 1964 budget would be only $24.5 million. Morris said he does not know exactly yet how much money would be available to Nebraska under the plan, should it become law.

However, he said, mental health officials from a 7-state Midwest region will meet in Omaha this fall to discuss the program.

"We should have a good idea by that time what this will mean to Nebraska," he said.

The program has the backing of mental health groups throughout the nation, as well as the American Medical Association.

1st Manpower Grads Turn In Good Results

The State Labor Department Wednesday announced employment results of the graduates of the first Manpower Development and Training (MDT) course held in the state.

Of 25 unemployed persons enrolled in a clerical course at Technical High School in Omaha, 15 completed the course. Information on the enrollees, the department said, shows that 16 are now employed in clerical occupations.

"These results are favorable," Labor Commissioner Donald Bastemeyer said. "We hope that we are able to obtain similar results in the other 7 courses that are either underway or in planning in the state."

"We are working closely with employers so that we will know what skills will be the most salable," Bastemeyer said. A special inquiry was recently made by the Nebraska Employment Division in cooperation with the local chambers of commerce in the Omaha-Council Bluffs area to determine what skills would be needed in the vicinity, as determined by employers.

The MDT program, administered nationally by the federal Labor and Education Departments, is under auspices of the State Labor and Education Departments.

Phi Mu Alumnae Plan Benefit

A project that has become as much fun as it is work for the alumnae of Phi Mu sorority is the bridge benefit which the organization will give on Saturday, June 8, at the chapter house. The fun, of course, is derived from shopping trips selecting toys for the very small patients at Lincoln General Hospital who will be the recipients of the Phi Mu Alumnae's brand new toy cart, which benefit funds will help finance. The group also provides toy carts at Bryan Memorial Hospital and the Orthopedic Hospital.

Around The Town

From where we sit it appears that June not only will be the month of brides — but also the month of guests. Some of the arrival dates are not definite as yet, but we have a name or two we may mention this morning — and we shall, later on.

Right now we have news of a departure from Lincoln. We hear that Miss Margaret Cannell, who has been a member of the University of Nebraska Home Economics faculty, is to become a resident of California.

Miss Cannell will leave Saturday for Menlo Park, Calif., where she will reside. She will be accompanied to the coast by Miss Suzanne Jobst who, while in California, will visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jobst, in San Francisco.

There are some names to add to the Safari Club's committee for the group's dinner dance on Saturday evening — The two additional couples, whose names did not appear on the committee list we used the other day, are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Millard and Mr. and Mrs. James Mallon.

Guest couples at the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gerstenberger and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hattan.

Now about those June guests — Arriving next Monday will be Miss Margaret Reeves, a Zeta Tau Alpha at the University of Louisiana, who will come from New Orleans to spend a few days as the guest of Miss Betty Walker. On June 6, Miss Walker, a junior at the University of Nebraska, and Miss Reeves will leave for Boulder, Colo., where they will be joined by a former classmate, Miss Ginny Elsea of Ohio Wesleyan University, for the summer session at the University of Colorado.

And on June 10, so we hear Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lampert and their two children, Ann and Peter, will come from Winston Salem, N.C., for a visit with Mr. Lampert's mother, Mrs. W. H. Linn, and Dr. Linn.

Memorial Day In Suburbia

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Another long weekend in Suburbia, thanks to the Memorial Day holiday, means that there are more busy people on the road, coming to, or going from Country Club Terrace.

Visitors arriving today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schrier are Mrs. Schrier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Friedman; and her brother and sister, Harry and Marlene Friedman, who will drive from their home in Omaha to spend Memorial Day with Mr. and Mrs. Schrier and their little ones, Jeffrey, Jill, and Julie.

Also joining Mr. and Mrs. Schrier and their Omaha guests this evening will be Mr. Schrier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Schrier of Lincoln.

Taking to the open road last evening for a holiday in the far northern part of the state were Country Club Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Colburn and their sons, Scott and Craig.

They were headed for Superior, where they are spending Memorial Day with Mr. Colburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Colburn.

Joining them today is Mrs. Colburn's mother, Mrs. Hazel Davison, of Bassett, who will return to Lincoln with her son-in-law and daughter this evening, and who will spend a few days with them at their Country Club Terrace home.

Talmage is today's destination for more Country Club Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Hudson, who will spend the day with two of Mrs. Hudson's aunts and an uncle, Miss Geraldine Norton, Miss Bernice Norton, and Frank Norton.

Plan Meeting

The members of the Capital City Newcomers Club will meet next Tuesday at the new Union Savings and Loan Bldg., 56th and O.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 o'clock and following a dessert supper, the evening hours will be spent with cards.

To Be Honored At Reception

The Sheridan School PTA will entertain at a reception on Sunday afternoon in the school auditorium honoring Mrs. Ray Ramsay, primary teacher at the school, who is retiring after 39 years service in the Lincoln schools.

Mrs. Ramsay received her education at Peru State College, Nebraska Wesleyan University, and the University of Nebraska, and is a former faculty member at Belmont School, and the Fremont Public Schools.

She is a member of the Nebraska State Education Association, the Association for Childhood Education, the National Education Association, Lincoln Education Association, Department of Classroom Teachers, and the recipient of a PTA Life Membership.

course, are the little Hudsons, Gary, Jay, and Nancy.

Visitors at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul J. Maxwell at various times during this week have been Dr. Maxwell's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Maxwell.

Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell, who now make their home in Wilmington, Del., are in Lincoln as houseguests of the two doctors' mother, Mrs. Emily Maxwell. They also have visited Mrs. R. W. Maxwell's mother, Mrs. Nora Marshall.

The Delaware visitors arrived in Lincoln on Monday and will be here for 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Thornton and their children, Marla, Shelley, Robert, Ned and Phyllis, are driving to Omaha today to spend Memorial Day with Mr. Thornton's father and sister, T. A. Thornton and Miss Pauline Thornton.

After their return there will be more activity in the Thornton household this weekend for Shelley will enter the ranks of a teenager on Friday, and she will be celebrating that 13th anniversary with friends and classmates with a party.

The end of May traditionally means the return of youngsters attending schools away from home, and one of those young men returning this weekend will be Tom Stephens, son of Col. and Mrs. Blackburn Stephens.

Tom is returning home after completing his junior year at Western Kentucky

State College in Bowling Green, Ky. He will only be spending 10 days with his parents and sister, Sarah, however, for he will return to Bowling Green for summer school sessions on June 10.

Another visitor in Country Club Terrace this past week has been Mrs. Roy M. Smith, who is a guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bucy.

Mrs. Smith, who makes her home in Texas, arrived in Lincoln last Sunday, and will be returning to Anesa this Sunday. Accompanying their grandmother back to Texas will be the two Bucy children, Nancy and Scott, who will be spending the summer in the Lone Star State.

BY SANDIE LAW
Hi, everyone! Well, Friday is the last day for all the seniors and this is my last article to write. I hope you readers have enjoyed my articles as much as I have enjoyed writing them for you.

Pep Club officers for next year are Jan Parrott, Linda King, Nancy Herstein, and Linda Witman are president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. Congrats!

Friday night, a senior annual signing party will be held for all Lincoln Northeast seniors in the gym. This gives all the seniors the chance to have their class members sign their annual before everyone goes their separate ways.

On May 28, we had our annual Senior Honors Assembly. All the LN seniors who have excelled scholastically were revealed. Included in the list of honorees were the students who received scholarships on the regional, state, and national levels. The top three per cent of the senior class were recognized as well as the students who have been on the honor roll for all six semesters during senior high school.

Steve Hamilton presided as Master of Ceremonies and presented the senior gift, a mosaic plaque designed by Dee Burch to LN from the class of 1963.

Receiving a certificate and a key pin from the Society of Academic Achievement were: Connie Blue, Ruth Chesnut, Rae Jean Dell, Louise Ellis, Steve Hamilton, Gail Jeffery, Larry Johnson, Jessie Kersey, Melvin King, Albert Lickie, Phil Lyon, Linda Mahoney, Tom Marx, Caroline Merrill, Art Scott, Gene Shipman, Bill Thainish, Kay Waltus, Shirley Wetink, and Judy Young.

Thanks to all of you who made it possible for me to write "Chatter in the Corridor." I have really enjoyed it. Bye!

Dear Abby

For The Record—You're Rattling Wrong Cage

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column I noticed the rather vitriolic letter from DOUG concerning his dislike of tobacco smoke. What amazed me was your approval of a device that would retaliate with an equally disgusting odor. On the basis of this, if the odor of garlic is offensive, why not use a logger's peavey to cram a couple of dozen buds down the throats of garlic eaters? And if you don't like the beehive hair-do, simply bust the wearer over the head with a hickory ax-handle. If you are annoyed because your linoleum is being pitted by ladies' steel heels, take a scythe and slash off their feet at the ankles. Heaven knows we all have to put up with a lot of things we don't especially like, but why not try to tolerate it with grace?

If smoke is bothersome, stay away from people who enjoy smoking.

DEAR BILL: You rattled the wrong cage. A beehive hair-do harms no one. One can step back a foot or two from another who has eaten garlic. And when you discover that your linoleum is being damaged, you can ask the lady to remove her shoes. BUT, the air belongs to everyone. And no one has the right to pollute it. Many people become physically ill from smoke but, sadly enough, the smoker is usually so enslaved by the habit that he neither asks nor cares whether he is offending the next person.

DEAR ABBY: In the absence of a "retaliator" for non-smokers, I'll tell you how I defend myself against the smoke thoughtless smokers send my way. I pick up a menu or newspaper and fan it back at them. If there is none handy — I simply BLOW it back to them. My wife tells me it is extremely rude, but it is no more rude than those who would choke me with their smoke.

ED R. F.

cent tirade you launched against smokers, I'll bet ten bucks you were recently told to give up cigarettes and are dying for a smoke.

AL

DEAR AL: Send the ten bucks to the Cancer Society. Sport. I have never smoked and never will.

DEAR ABBY: It has been very warm here all week, so I sent my daughter to school in walking shorts. She attends public school and is in the fourth grade. The shorts were not tight, too short or objectionable in any way. The principal sent her home. When I called up to find out why, he said they could not allow girls to wear "shorts" to school as it would create a "discipline" problem. Exactly what does this mean?

ANNNOYED: It means that if one girl wears shorts to school the other girls would follow. And the shorts would probably become shorter and tighter until they'd be wearing short shorts and possibly bikini bathing suits. I don't blame the principal.

For a personal, unpublished answer to your letter, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

The bidding:
 South West North East
 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠
 1 NT Pass 6 ♣

Opening lead — nine of hearts.

Here is a rather unusual hand where declarer made six clubs, even though, on the surface, the contract seems impossible to make.

The deal occurred in a rubber bridge game. North's leap to six clubs was rather ambitious, but it was apparently vindicated when South played the hand well to bring home the contract.

West led a heart, which declarer correctly analyzed as a singleton. If he had ducked in dummy, he would have been defeated, whether East returned a spade or a heart at trick two.

But South went up with the ace, and, basing his chances on a squeeze, proceeded to cash four rounds of trumps and the A-K-Q of diamonds to bring about this position:

East

South

The lead of the queen of clubs then placed East in a hopeless position. He had to discard a spade or a heart. If he discarded a spade, South would discard a heart and win the next three tricks with the A-Q-10 of spades, by leading a spade and finessing the queen.

If East chose to discard a heart, South would discard the ten of spades, take the spade finesse, and then lead the jack of hearts. East would take the king, but would then be forced to concede the last two tricks to the ace of spades and ten of hearts.

Taking the ace of hearts at trick one was the key play of the hand. From then on, all that South had to do was cash his winners in clubs and diamonds and let nature take its course.

The squeeze is a marvelous instrument when the pressure is properly applied.

It Seems To Me

Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott

If you are planning a vacation wardrobe, there are many fabrics that travel well, so choose from among them.

Q. For a motor trip through Europe would culottes be comfortable and practical? Do you know of any material that could be washed at the end of a days journey and worn the next morning without ironing?

A. Culottes are excellent for this purpose and are certainly more acceptable than pants. Why not try one of jersey blends? Arnel, for instance, has enough body; comes in marvelous colors, and prints, and dries overnight with no ironing required.

Q. I have one big problem when making bound or cord-bound buttonholes. They are beautiful except that I don't know how to stitch down the little triangle at each corner. After using the buttonhole a couple of times, this tab starts to fray. How should I do this?

A. Place your garment on the machine with the right side up. Turn back the edge of the closing so that the triangular tab is lying on top of the buttonhole strip. Then, stitch across the triangle at each end of the buttonhole.

Q. In making a peasant skirt or a gathered skirt for a dress, is there any way to keep the fullness at the hem yet reduce the bulk in the waistline?

A. Most gathered skirts are cut with the seams on the straight grain. However, there are some patterns that have a shaped skirt — that is one that has tapered side seams such as for a gored skirt and that allows just enough at the waistline for a little fullness. I wouldn't suggest trying to recut your pattern to achieve this because if it isn't graded properly your skirt will hang badly.

33 Drivers Set For 47th Indianapolis Race

Thursday, May 30, 1963 The Lincoln Star 21

... TWO NEW CARS PROMISE ONLY ONE PIT STOP; RECORD PURSE EYED

Indianapolis (AP)—The record onslaught would continue and a motor dynasty may tumble in the 47th Memorial Day 500-mile auto race Thursday as 33 daring and skilled drivers roar off to nowhere before an estimated 250,000.

This merciless matching of men and machines—including 4 new breed cars—against the perils and pounding of 200 whirls around the mammoth Indianapolis Motor Speedway will pay off handsomely.

A record half-million dollar total purse was envisioned in last minute estimates, which would make the top prize well above the $125,015 swap captured last year by Roger Ward, only two-time winner still wheeling.

Ideal racing weather—partly cloudy and in the 70s—is forecast.

Much has been made of a promise of only one pit stop by two of the new challengers of the Offenhauser regime—the Lotus-Fords to be driven by the grand prix pair of Scotland's Jim Clark and Californian Dan Gurney.

The 23 Offys, including favored Parnelli Jones' pole position racer, usually need 3 pit stops for refueling and tire changes for the full 500-mile route.

But if the string of 16 successive wins by Offenhausers, the so-called invincible 4-bangers, is to be shattered by the Lotus-Fords, to Chevy-powered entries—a also rear-engined jobs—or the 3 8-cylindered Novis, the answer lies in Thursday's moment of truth which stretches some 3½ roaring hours.

The qualifying runs are for only 4 of the 2½ mile laps and experimental runs are like morning workouts by thoroughbreds.

Once speedway owner Tony Hulman barks "Gentlemen, start your engines" at 10 a.m. CST, Thursday, it's every man and every machine for himself and itself.

When Ward, the debonair dasher from Indianapolis, won with a record 140.293 miles an hour last year, his grease and oil-splattered Leader Card Offy was one of only 15 finishers—less than half of the 33-car starting field.

In 1961, only 12 cars were running as A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., one of 4 returning champs in Thursday's field, got the checkered flag. Foyt's time was 139.130 mph, the 3rd straight year the 500 speed record was lowered.

In 1960, there were 17 surviving cars.

The most machine casualties in modern times came in 1946 when only 7 cars finished. They also nearly ran out of cars in 1951 when Lee Wallard, in a tiny, all-purpose Belanger Special, led only 8 finishers home.

If Ward, who scored his first 500 triumph in 1959, is superstitious he might ignore the fact this is his 13th speedway start.

However, the driver who should keep crossed fingers is Jones, the can't-miss driver who did miss in his two previous 500 starts. Jones has set the qualifying record for two successive years, this time averaging 151.153 mph in gusty winds.

Jones, 29, from Torrance, Calif., has consistently proved he can top anybody else on the speedway track, but his luck doesn't hold in the big race.

He led the 500 during his rookie year of 1961, had engine trouble and was awarded 12th place after finishing 192 laps. Last year, Jones led most of the race, but lost his brakes and wound up 7th.

The other former champions include one-time boy wonder Troy Ruttman, who won in 1952 at the age of 22, and 1960 winner Jim Rathmann.

The first-year drivers in the field are headed by Clark, the grand prix veteran who will start his Lotus-Ford in the second row, between Ward and Jim McElreath, a solid dark horse.

Besides the threat of the new rear-engined entries, another interesting note surrounds use of shorter, but wider-based tires.

Twenty-three cars are equipped with the new 15-inch tires, while 9 will run with the conventional 18-inchers and one of owner Mickey Thompson's low slung rear-engined jobs will use even wider 12-inch tires.

The United States has entered a 16-man freestyle team, led by 3 Pan-American Games champions—featherweight Ron Finley of Oregon State; lightweight Greg Ruth of West Point, former Lehigh star; and light heavyweight Joe James of Chicago and Oklahoma State. Another U.S. Pan-Am champion, Jim Ferguson of Michigan State, was beaten for the welterweight berth by Dean Lahr, NCAA champion from Colorado.

Chicago (AP)—A dozen grass runners were named Wednesday to run in the $30,000-added Swaps Handicap at one mile at Washington Park Thursday.

A holiday crowd of about 35,000 is expected to watch Hasty House Farms' Cartwright, top weighted at 120 pounds, attempt to make good as the favorite.

BLONDE IS BASEBALL QUEEN

Tonight's card will get underway at 8:30 with a one fall, 20-minute match between Ernie Dusek and Dan Plechas. The girls will take over in the second bout with Kathy Starr tangling with Mars Monroe. Duke Hoffman will go against Guy Mitchell in the semifinal match.

Twins Gain 9th Straight Victory, 10-1

From News Wires

The red hot Minnesota Twins gained their 9th straight victory Wednesday night, a 10-1 decision over the Washington Senators, behind the two-hit pitching of Dick Stigman and the homers of Vic Pover and Earl Battey.

Power put the game on ice in the 5th when he hit his 4th career grand slam homer. Battey added a 3-run blast off Claude Osteen in the 8th. It was the Minnesota catcher's 9th home run of the year.

Minnesota received a total of 13 bases on balls from 5 Washington hurlers and left 14 runners on base.

Stigman gave up a triple to Minnie Minoso in the first and a double to Ed Brinkman in the second to raise his season's record to 4-5. He struck out 9 and walked only 3. The lone Washington run in the 4th was unearned.

The Twins have now hit 15 home runs in their last 5 games and have won 11 of their last 12 contests.

The Kansas City Athletics snapped the Baltimore Orioles' 9-game winning streak, 5-4, when Ed Charles singled with the bases loaded in the 11th inning to break a 4-4 tie. The Orioles scored all their runs in the top of the 6th inning to take a 4-3 lead but the A's tied it in the bottom of the frame on a solo homer by Norm Siebern.

The Los Angeles Angels beat Detroit 4-2 in the only other game scheduled in the AL.

Charley Dee's 3-run double in the 6th inning put it away for the Angels against the Tigers. Albie Pearson accounted for the first Los Angeles run with a homer in the 5th.

U.S. Golfers Up For British Meet

St. Andrews, Scotland (AP)—Four American Walker Cup players spun around St. Andrews Old Course in sparkling golf Wednesday, serving notice that the United States is out to make it a double by grabbing the British-amateur title next week.

Ed Undergraff of Tucson, Ariz., who was undefeated in the Walker Cup triumph at Turnberry last week, shot a brilliant 71, one under par. He had two birdies and slipped up only once with a 6 at the notoriously dangerous 17th "Road" hole.

Undergraff and Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., won a friendly match from Richard Davies, Pasadena, Calif., and U.S. Amateur Champion Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., 2 up.

Richmond Drops Cage Invitational Tourney

Richmond, Va. (AP)—The Richmond Invitational Basketball Tournament, a fixture here for the last 9 seasons, will not be held this year, the University of Richmond announced Wednesday.

A spokesman for the university said there are no plans at present for renewing the tournament, which began in 1954 as an 8-team affair but in recent years had dwindled to 4 teams.

YAWN FROM CANDY SPOTS

Candy Spots, favorite in the $100,000 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park today appears to be yawning in utter boredom after a workout.

Minnesota received a total of 13 bases on balls from 5 Washington hurlers and left 14 runners on base.

Stigman gave up a triple to Minnie Minoso in the first and a double to Ed Brinkman in the second to raise his season's record to 4-5. He struck out 9 and walked only 3. The lone Washington run in the 4th was unearned.

The Twins have now hit 15 home runs in their last 5 games and have won 11 of their last 12 contests.

Beatrice Pony Takes 5th In English Race

Epsom, England (AP)—Relko, French-owned, trained and ridden favorite, captured the 184th running of the English derby Wednesday by 6 lengths—and left 5 American-owned horses floundering down the field.

Yves Saint-Martin, 21-year-old French champion jockey, kept Relko in a handy position for the winning strike over the 1½-mile turf course. A 5-1 shot, Relko was the first favorite to win the derby since 1957.

Saint-Martin let Relko have his head 3 furlongs out and his mount ran all other opposition into the ground.

Merchant Venturer, 18-1, owned by Sir Foster Robinson of England, came second and Ireland's Ragusa, 25-1, was 3rd another 3 lengths back.

The best of the 5 American-owned entries was Corpora, who finished 5th in the 26-horse race. Corpora, owned by Robin Scully of Beatrice, Neb., was a 25-2 betting shot.

'SPACE CADET' STUART TRYING OUT EYEGLASSES

Boston (AP)—Boston Red Sox slugger Dick Stuart may be the latest major league player to don eyeglasses.

Stuart, hitting only .243 and evidently worried about it, said Wednesday night before the Boston-New York game was rained out that he obtained glasses Wednesday afternoon. He will use them Thursday during batting practice to see if they help.

The big right-handed hitter was asked to put them on for photographers, but declined. A remark that he looked a little like "a space cadet" with them on solidified his stand.

Inglewood, Calif. (AP)—Nineteen horses were entered in Thursday's Will Rogers Stakes at Hollywood Park, requiring it to be run in two divisions.

Athletics May Accept Wynn

Kansas City (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics may sign Early Wynn to give him the opportunity to win his 300th major league game, the Kansas City Star said Wednesday.

The Star quoted Charles O. Finley, owner of the Athletics, as saying in Chicago he had been talking with Wynn and is hopeful the veteran will join the A's.

One of the stumbling blocks at this time appears to be money.

"Early threw a figure at me and I threw one back at him," Finley said. "As yet neither of us is willing to accept the other man's figure."

Wynn, who has 299 victories, was given his release by the Chicago White Sox following the close of last season.

Wynn went to spring training with the Sox and pitched in several exhibition games. The White Sox decided against putting him back on their roster.

Angels Get Tough On Bo

... WON'T GO TO HAWAII

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels said Wednesday night they will ask Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick to place pitcher Bo Belinsky on the disqualified list because he has refused to report to Hawaii.

A player on the disqualified list draws no salary.

In New York, a spokesman for Frick said the commissioner's office had heard nothing of the matter, but added that a request to place a player on the disqualified list was a more or less formal move usually approved by the commissioner automatically.

Rumors that Belinsky wanted to be placed on the voluntarily retired list for 60 days to appear in a movie were denied by one of Bo's closest friends, who said the pitcher had not been approached on any motion picture offer.

Belinsky, who had won only one of 8 games for the Angels

—FINED $250— Clemente Suspended Five Days

Pittsburgh (AP) — Outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates drew a 5-day suspension and a $250 fine by National League President Warren Giles Wednesday for jostling an umpire.

The incident occurred at Forbes Field Tuesday night after Clemente was called out of the tail end of a double play by first base umpire Bill Jackowski in the 5th inning.

In a heated argument, Clemente twice bumped Jackowski and was ordered out of the game. After the game, Clemente told newsmen:

"Every year I lose 15-20 points on close plays at first base. I seldom argue unless I feel the umpire is wrong. I have good record in league of field but this is worst year for umpires in league."

Clemente will miss 6 games Thursday's doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies and 4 games over the weekend with the New York Mets.

In a telegram to Clemente, notifying him of the suspension and fine, Giles said:

"Your actions were the most serious reported to our office in several years."

"The suspension is limited to 5 days because of the assurance given me by Mr. Joe Brown, Pirates general manager, that the club would not pay the fine and would not re-impose you directly or indirectly."

Brown said he couldn't quarrel with the suspension.

"We have rules and we have to abide by them," said Brown. "Whether Clemente bumped the umpire intentionally or not I do not know."

CLAY LEAVES WHEN TOLD HE ISN'T TOPS

London (AP) — Garrulous Cassius Clay stormed out of a television program Wednesday night when he discovered the interviewer didn't think he was wonderful.

The Louisville heavyweight is here to meet British Empire champion Henry Cooper June 18.

The TV walkout came while he was being interviewed by British Broadcasting Company reporter David Coleman.

Everything was fine as long as Coleman let Cassius tell the audience how wonderful he was—as a boxer, as a poet and as a beautiful physical specimen.

But when Coleman said he and most British fans disliked people who talk too much and preferred Cooper, Clay jumped to his feet in wrath and exploded:

"I thought you were for me. Otherwise I wouldn't have come here."

He stalked off the set as Coleman tried to restrain him.

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Tuttle Creek Dam and Reservoir, the center of a bitter Kansas feud until a few years ago, will be officially opened this weekend.

Conservation, flood control and sports share in the $80 million project on the Blue River just north of this university city in north central Kansas.

Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., and Gov. John Anderson will divide honors at the two-day affair. Carlson will give the dedication address at 3 p.m. Saturday and Anderson will present trophies for a series of water contests Sunday.

Thousands Expected

Thousands of visitors, including out-of-state travelers, are expected for the dedication. Boat clubs from Iowa and Nebraska have written officials they will attend.

Statistically, Tuttle Creek spreads over 15,800,000 acres, almost 25,000 square miles. The dam embankment is 7,500 feet long with a 1,059-foot spillway section. The dam, which arises 140 feet above the stream bed, has two 20-foot outlet conduits and 18 spillway gates.

The reservoir has a storage capacity of 2,346,000 acre-feet of which 1,933,000 acre-feet is for flood control and 413,000 for conservation. The shoreline of the conservation pool stretches 112 miles.

Tuttle Creek was termed a major key of flood protection in the Kaw River Basin when it was first authorized by Congress in 1938 as part of the Pick-Sloan plan.

Reluctant

But farmers in the valley were reluctant to sell homesteads, many of which had been in the family for generations. They fought hard and gained wide attention when women members of the Blue Valley Belles gave their "save our homes" appeal.

The Belles were credited with defeating a pro-Tuttle Creek congressman.

Kansas' worst flood in history in 1951 convinced many people the reservoir was needed. Later when a drought spread across the state still others saw the necessity of the reservoir for water storage.

Now many supporters, having seen the reservoir become a reality, are working for establishment of a Prairie National Grasslands park virtually adjoining the reservoir. It would be a doublebarreled tourist attraction.

REACTOR NEAR HALLAM GOES ON LINE FOR FIRST TIME

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Hallam — Electricity from the world's first sodium-graphite commercial nuclear power reactor was switched into the grid system of the eastern two-thirds of Nebraska at 10:02 a.m. Wednesday.

Atomic-produced electricity is the same as from a conventional plant — the "only difference being in the fuel that fires the boiler."

Consumers Public Power District, Atomic International and Atomic Energy Commission representatives participated in the historic switch-over as some 30 news representatives looked on.

Dedication Later

Official dedication for the Hallam Nuclear Power Facility, which produces atomic-heated steam for Sheldon Station's 75,000 kilowatt turbine generator will be held later this year.

CPPD's Sheldon Station has been operating as a conventional steam plant generating facility for the past two years.

Full conventional-fuel capacity is 100,000 kilowatts. CPPD General Manager Ray Schacht said the power district will eventually be able to undersell any other power agency in the state — thanks to the atomic generating plant.

But, Schacht said, it will take several years before the Hallam operation becomes more efficient than a conventional plant.

Joe Owens, Atomic International field supervisor, noted the world's supply of fossil fuels, such as coal, gas and oil is dwindling, but that the atom, in itself, is a source of almost unlimited energy.

Consumers Pioneering Nebraska, through Consumers' pioneering in nuclear-power generation, will have a lead in know-how and trained manpower, he added.

Dr. Emerson Jones, CPPD's nuclear consultant, said Consumers has the option of acquiring the nuclear plant for $1 after the AEC decides it has gotten its money's worth out of the plant, largely a research project for the AEC.

Aiding in throwing the changeover switch were Frederick H. Wagener of Lincoln, CPPD president; Robert Butaine, AEC site representative; J. Denny Cochran, CPPD superintendent, and Owens.

After the key switch was thrown, largely a symbolic effort, operating crews took over the handling of switches and valves for turning nuclear produced steam into the turbine.

Plume Disappears

Other than the shifting of gauge needles and some blinking lights, the only visual evidence of the changeover was the disappearance of a plume of steam which had been rising beside the plant.

"It's now going into the turbine to generate electricity instead of being dumped," Consumers officials said. "It was just wasted steam until the switch was thrown."

Owens said the nuclear facility will continue generating until Saturday, when it will be shut down for simulated safety procedures and checks during a 12-hour period.

Consumers officials noted that Wednesday was C.C. Sheldon's 92nd birthday.

The public power pioneers received a special nuclear gift as Sheldon Station went to atomic-produced electricity—4 years and 10 months after ground was broken for the plant on orders given by Sheldon, then 87.

'Art Prices To Rise'

London (AP) — Museums mushrooming across the United States will cause a continued rise in the price of fine art, predicts Peter Wilson, a leading British art auctioneer.

Chamber directors praised Mayor Dean Petersen for his pledge to work for new industries and prepared an invitation to a forthcoming directors' meeting so that he might become informed on chamber operation.

"We shall be guided by their advice," said Townsend.

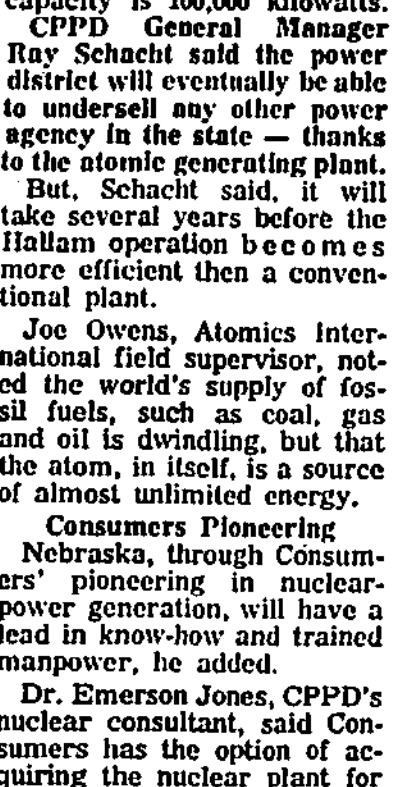

Recently the NSCC and AIN, in a joint letter, urged the Lincoln Chamber to continue its close association, reminding it that a disagreement in one area should not operate against cooperation in so many vital areas of common agreement.

But President Willard Townsend said that printed material on the subject will still be available.

Differences over the composition and interpretation of portions of data contained in the legislative budget film brought the Lincoln Chamber into strained relations with the two state organizations and for a time raised a question of Lincoln's continued representation on the NSCC board.

Wednesday Townsend said he had named Myron Weil and Burnham Yates to study future relationships with the NSCC. Both are Lincoln and State Chamber board members.

Waverly Bonds For High School Expansion OK'd

Waverly area residents have approved a $266,000 bond issue for high school expansion by a 274 to 84 vote.

The new addition to the Waverly Consolidated School will include 7 classrooms, an administrative suite and teachers workroom, a health room, girls locker room, a complete kitchen and lunchroom.

The addition will raise the school's capacity to 1,000, according to Supt. Charles E. Seever. It now has 593 grade and high school students.

The school was enlarged in January 1960 when a $297,000 addition was built.

Torwirt Seeking $87,850 Damages

Harry R. Torwirt filed an $87,850 damage suit in Lancaster District Court against Rodney H. Carlson in connection with a Jan. 15 car-pedestrian accident.

Torwirt alleges he suffered injuries and damages when Carlson ran into him as he was crossing the intersection of 29th and O.

Torwirt alleges that Carlson was speeding, following the car ahead of him too closely, failed to decrease speed at the intersection, failed to yield right of way to plaintiff, was driving on the wrong side of the street, and was guilty of other acts of negligent driving.

5 Convicted
For Bilking
Foundation

Minneapolis, Minn. (UPI) — A federal court jury Wednesday convicted 5 men, including a former Minneapolis mayor, for bilking the famed Sister Kenny Foundation out of millions of dollars in charity donations.

The verdict capped a 10-week mail fraud trial in which the government charged the defendants with concealing about $7 million in collected donations. Evidence showed the defendants gathered about $20 million in donations and kept about $11 million.

The prosecution charged the swindle involved Marvin L. Kline, former executive director of the foundation, two other officers of the foundation and a Chicago mail fund collection corporation which conducted nationwide solicitation campaigns from 1952-60.

Convicted were Kline, 58, one of the institute founders and former Minneapolis mayor; George Zimmerman, St. Paul, former Kenny bookkeeper; and Philip Koolish, 71, his son, David, 43, and John Carnell, 50, officers of 3 related Chicago firms.

The government charged that Kline assured the Chicagoans of a contract to handle Kenny solicitations and, through Zimmerman, concealed the actual amounts from the Kenny board of directors.

Kline is already under a 10-year prison sentence for grand larceny.

TITAN TEST SHOT EXPLODES

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — A Titan 2 intercontinental range missile exploded spectacularly high above the Atlantic Ocean Wednesday, spreading two giant fireballs across a clear sky and sending a series of artillery-like blasts skipping back to nearby beaches.

The blazing failure was another setback in Titan 2's development as America's most powerful military rocket and as the booster for the two-man Gemini spacecraft.

Nine of 16 Titan 2 test flights from Cape Canaveral have been successful. Of the 7 failures, the flight Wednesday was the first to have booster stage trouble and was the first to end in an explosion. All previous fizzles occurred in the second stage.

Weighing 150 tons and standing 103 feet tall, the rocket lifted smoothly from its launch pad and flew a true course for about 40 seconds. Then trouble developed and 10 seconds later, 20,000 feet above the sea, the big weapon burst apart, its fuels blending into a flaming holocaust.

The upper stage broke loose and was blown into a second fiery mass by the range safety officer as it plummeted toward the ocean.

The two balls of fire, visible for miles along the east-central Florida coast, died quickly as the fuel was consumed, leaving a pair of massive reddish smoke blobs hovering in the sky. Eventually the two joined and were whipped into a horseshoe pattern which was visible for more than an hour before dissipating.

Film Rebuttal Halt Is Called By Chamber

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce announced termination of its truth squad activity rebutting portions of the Citizenship Responsibility Program sponsored in film and spoken form by the Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Industries of Nebraska.

But President Willard Townsend said that printed material on the subject will still be available.
